Jan., 10th	64	8vo dy	1st ...	500	Printed	0 4 0	Aghor Nath Kuár, 341, Niyogi-pukur East Lane, Calcutta.	In a long and well-reasoned article on the Congress, the writer attempts to prove to his countrymen that British rule	2113
the people, and are anxious to give them a liberal education. On the theory that knowledge is power, the English are of the people is not inconsistent with the permanence of British rule in India · but the English are yet doubtful they are fit for some degree of self-government. The English need not be afraid of it.
Feb., 4th	64	8vo dy	1st ...	500	ditto ..	0 4 0	ditto ...	Gives an account of the Congress at Allahabad. The writer considers the Congress to be a	2114 hollow and unsubstantial thing altogether. The speakers were more bent on making a name for themselves than for showing any sympathy with the people.
Mar., 1st	44	8vo dy	1st ...	500	ditto ..	0 4 0	ditto ...	Contains a criticism of Sir Comer Petheram's Convocation speech. The writer does not consider	2115 intermarriage between members of different castes to be the sole aim of English education in India, and he thinks that the various castes will never intermarry.

Nov., 5th	64	8vo dy	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	0 5 0	Akshaya Chandra Sarkár, 61, Mirzapur Street Calcutta.	Contains a short humorous sketch of a native lawyer's life and a humorous description of a	2116
chair intended for the Chairmen of Local Self-Government Boards. Whoever sits on it can never leave it, though he becomes quite a different creature from what he formerly was.
Dec., 1st	56	8vo rl ..	1st	1,400	ditto ...	0 7 0	... ..	In one of the articles the writer asks his Hindu and Muhammadan countrymen to learn	2117
how to feel for each other during the continuance of English rule in India. The example of the English nation alone can impress on the native mind the importance of patriotism and religious toleration.
,, 30th	56	8vo rl	1st ...	1,400	ditto ...	0 7 0	ditto ...	Babu Siddheswar Raya thinks that India will regain its independence and will again stand very	2118 high in the scale of nations · nations besides the English will rule India before it can achieve its independence. It is sure, however, Datta's Arbelia speech on the origin and development of the Congress movement.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON PUBLIC INSTRUCTION IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1888-89.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

Calcutta, the 21st November 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report on Public Instruction in Bengal for the year 1888-89.

The subject has been ably dealt with by Mr. C. H. Tawney, C.I.E., the Officiating Director of Public Instruction, who, while submitting a sufficient account of the year's work, has considerably curtailed the dimensions to which these annual reports formerly extended. The wishes of Government in this respect have been correctly understood, the intention being that details should be more minutely gone into only in alternate years. The punctuality with which the report has been submitted on the prescribed date is noticed with particular satisfaction by the Lieutenant-Governor.

Number under instruction.

2. At the close of the year the number of pupils borne on the rolls of the different educational institutions in the Province was 1,482,150, being 29,205 more than in 1888. The increase has been at the rate of two per cent., and fairly corresponds with the supposed annual growth of the population. While the proportion between those who receive some form of instruction and the illiterate has thus remained stationary, there has been a very marked expansion of higher education, the increase in colleges being at the rate of 15 per cent., in high English schools at the rate of 8 per cent., in middle English schools at the rate of 4 per cent., in upper primary schools at the rate of 2 per cent., while in lower vernacular schools there has, on the contrary, been a decrease of ·9 per cent. The comparatively rapid spread among the upper and middle classes of instruction in its higher forms is all the more satisfactory, because it is the result, not so much of any increase in the expenditure of Government, as of the efforts of the people themselves, and of their growing appreciation of the benefit which their children derive from education; but it is an object of regret that there is no such spontaneous tendency towards the diffusion of elementary knowledge among the masses, the great majority of whom are still illiterate. The Officiating Director of Public Instruction estimates that only one boy in four is borne on the rolls of some school, and one girl in fifty-seven, while it is notorious that in the lower primary schools a considerable proportion of the children thus registered as under instruction never really learn to read and write. These figures are not unsatisfactory with reference to the means at the command of Government, or by comparison with other parts of India; but they indicate how wide is the field for future exertions. It should be constantly borne in mind that it is the policy of Government to extend the advantages of elementary education as widely as may be possible, and that the result of a year's work can never be considered altogether good unless some progress has been made in this direction.

Administration in its lower branches.

3. The system of controlling public instruction through District Boards, introduced under Act III (B.C.) of 1885, has now been in force for two complete years, and on its administration the progress of popular education in great measure depends. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with pleasure that the Officiating Director considers the general aspect of the relations between the Boards and the Department to be satisfactory. The cases in which the educational proceedings of the Boards, as reported, appear open to exception, have been noticed in a Resolution recently issued on the working of these local bodies during the year; it will be sufficient here to observe that the defects to be guarded against, and of which instances are most common, are the diversion of funds allotted for primary education to purposes more directly useful to the classes from whom the members of Boards are drawn, and the substitution of stipendiary schools, which afford patronage, and give superior instruction to a few, for the system of payment by results, which alone touches the masses. In order to prevent the friction which is occasionally felt at present, the Officiating Director recommends that every Board should appoint a Standing Educational Committee; that the Deputy Inspector of each district should be a member of the Board, as also of the Committee; and that Boards should furnish Circle Inspectors with copies of their educational proceedings. The second of these proposals has been already adopted by Government: the others appear primâ facie to be reasonable, and Sir Alfred Croft will be requested to submit them separately for consideration, with an expression of his opinion. Rules for the better conduct of the educational work of Boards have recently been published for public criticism, and the subject is one which receives the constant attention of the Department. It is the object of the Lieutenant-Governor to enlist the full and hearty co-operation of the members of the Boards in the work of public instruction, giving to them ample powers for its promotion, but at the same time offering through the trained officers of the Department, and by rules of general application, the guidance necessary to secure uniformity and system.

Financial.

4. The budget estimate for expenditure on education during the year was Rs. 24,49,587; the actual expenditure, according to the accounts furnished by the Accountant-General, amounted to Rs. 24,58,197, being Rs. 8,610 in excess. On the other hand, the receipts were Rs. 6,23,674 against an estimate of Rs. 5,38,660, showing an increase of Rs. 85,014, and the net result to Provincial revenue was better than, the forecast by Rs. 76,404. The Lieutenant-Governor is happy to recognise that the officers of the Educational Department show a due sense of the importance of respecting financial limits, and of adhering to budget arrangements. There was no very material alteration in the distribution of the allotment from Provincial funds among the different heads of instruction, but a comparison with the results obtained in 1887-88 shows that, so far as there has been any change, it has been in the direction of a decrease in the expenditure on colleges, and an increase in the other branches, particularly in the outlay on special or technical education. In Bengal the Government allotment is but a moderate part of the whole expenditure, the contributions from private sources during the year, including fees, amounting to Rs. 54,19,000, being Rs. 2,55,000 in excess of what was recovered last year. The tendency in regard to fees, the largest branch of the educational receipts, is to an increase from collegiate and secondary schools, a decrease from primary schools. The expenditure from District Funds, assigned from Provincial revenues for educational purposes, rose from Rs. 9,29,000 to Rs. 9,55,000, that from Municipal Funds from Rs. 80,000 to Rs. 86,000, and in each of these cases, as in that of the Provincial grant, there was an increase under the head of primary education; yet the total expenditure of this class fell slightly, owing to the deficiency in private contributions from Rs. 24,16,000 to Rs. 23,95,000.

Inspection.

5. The accounts of inspection work are, so far as the inferior grades of inspecting officers are concerned, indicative rather of physical activity, than of thorough work. In Shahabad the Deputy Inspector is reported to have been on tour for 318 days, and to have visited 536 schools in situ; in Chupra a Sub-Inspector on an average travelled 21·2 miles and visited 5·6 schools per diem, in addition to 116 schools examined by him in central gatherings; while the education clerk of Manbhoom, in his capacity of ex-officio Sub-Inspector, and having only the primary schools of the Sudder subdivision to inspect, covered a distance of 2,243 miles in 85 days. The incompatibility of haste with useful inspection work is painfully clear, and the Lieutenant-Governor regrets to see the rapidity with which Sub-Inspectors have moved attributed in many cases to a desire to earn travelling allowance: it is imperative that extravagant and perfunctory touring should be not only persistently discouraged, as Mr. Tawney remarks, but positively prohibited. The precaution against tours being arranged otherwise than with a view to the public service suggested in last year's Resolution was a rule prescribing the submission for approval beforehand of programmes of intended tours: this plan is said to have been tried without success in some districts, and is condemned as impracticable by the Officiating Director of Public Instruction and a majority of Circle Inspectors. It would, no doubt, impose an inconvenient burden on the superior officers of the Department: but the Lieutenant-Governor must insist that the abuse, of which so many instances are given in the report, shall be checked in this or in some other way. It is noticed that the Officiating Director, while clearly indicating where sub-inspecting officers have erred, makes no mention of any disciplinary orders issued by Inspectors or the retrenchment of extravagant bills for travelling allowance. The necessity for such steps may not arise, as the Government of India has recently given the Local Government power to remove what is admitted on all hands to be a temptation by permitting Sub-Inspectors and Deputy Inspectors of Schools to exchange daily allowance for mileage; but Mr. Tawney appears to be under a misapprehension in stating that the necessary orders have actually issued, and the Director should lose no time in addressing Government on the subject.

University education.

6. There has again been an increase in the number of college pupils, of whom 5,184 were borne on the rolls at the close of the year, as against 4,494 in 1888, 3,215 in 1887, and 2,998 in 1886. At this rate of progress the roll of our University students will double in about four years. There has also been an increase, by comparison with the previous year, in the number passing each of the University tests, 629 being successful at the First Arts examination, against 481 in 1887-88; 366 in the Bachelor of Arts examination, against 323; 58 in the examination for the degree of Master of Arts, against 43. The progress made in this respect by the Government Colleges during the year was particularly marked. The increase in expenditure on collegiate education from all sources, public and private, was not proportionately great; the amount spent under this head was Rs. 6,38,954 in 1888-89 against Rs. 6,21,195 in the preceding year, and there was an actual decrease from Rs. 2,74,874 to Rs. 2,55,173 in the net expenditure from Provincial revenues. Mr. Tawney observes that in Government colleges the total cost has increased from Rs. 3,74,275 to Rs. 3,83,365, but the cost to Provincial revenues has fallen from Rs. 2,44,293 to Rs. 2,30,409. The yearly cost of each student in a Government college has fallen from Rs. 258 to Rs. 233, and the cost of his education to Government from Rs. 168 to Rs. 140. Taking collegiate education, from whatever sources supported, as a whole, the cost of the education of each student in the colleges of Bengal has fallen from Rs. 143 to Rs. 124, and the Government share of that cost from Rs. 63 to Rs. 50. Every new annual report supplies fresh evidence of the progress of education of this class in Bengal, of its growing popularity, and wider diffusion.

Secondary education.

7. Secondary schools have advanced in number from 2,226 to 2,319, their pupils from 189,103 to 200,124, the increase being shared by all three classes—high English, middle English, and middle vernacular. In spite of the circumstance that the practice of allowing successful candidates at former examinations to present themselves for re-examination was, save in exceptional cases, abandoned, the results of the Middle English Scholarship test were throughout better than those of the previous year; and, with an exception in respect of amalgamated high schools and private candidates, so also were those of the Middle Vernacular Scholarship examination. The expenditure incurred rose from Rs. 23,70,734 in 1887-88 to Rs. 25,36,045, and of this sum Rs. 6,01,539 were contributed from public sources, inclusive of Provincial revenues and District and Municipal Funds, the percentage of the cost to the public generally on the total outlay in aided high English schools being 23·2, in middle English schools 32·2, and in middle vernacular 37. Most secondary schools are in receipt of grants-in-aid from Government; but there is a considerable minority, which has not been placed on the aided list for want of funds. Under existing financial conditions, and with reference to the more urgent necessity of extending primary education, provision for the demands of new schools can be made only in the manner contemplated by the Grant-in-aid Rules, that is, by withdrawing or reducing the assistance given to institutions which no longer need support from public funds.

Conduct and discipline.

8. Mr. Tawney considers that the conduct of pupils is deteriorating, and attributes this result to deficiencies in the subordinate masters, and increasing competition for pupils. He observes that "in a single issue of a weekly Bengali newspaper there appeared advertisements from not less than seven high and middle schools offering various pecuniary inducements to boys who might choose to join the first class of any one of them. This system of stealing pupils is, I fear, on the increase. It is heart-breaking to conscientious teachers, and fosters ingratitude in the pupils. The position of Government high schools is, of course, sufficiently strong for the head-masters to enforce some kind of discipline if they choose to do so. As a rule, I believe, the heads of Government schools are upright and conscientious men, and do exert themselves to the utmost to keep order in their schools and elevate the tone of the students. The same may be said also of the heads of many non-Government schools. But there can be no doubt that by so doing they expose themselves to considerable odium." As a remedy he proposes the extreme measure of altogether prohibiting unlicensed education. "No school," he observes "should be allowed to receive pupils that has not been carefully inspected by a Government officer and received a license from Government, to be periodically renewed; and the University should so modify its regulations as to make it impossible for any unlicensed school to send up candidates to the Entrance examination." These remarks were penned before the receipt of the important Resolution recently recorded by the Government of India on the subject, which has indicated the measures to be adopted for the improvement of discipline. The Lieutenant-Governor has no desire to go beyond the limits laid down by that Resolution in enforcing supervision over private schools.

Primary education.

9. The record of the work of the year in the most important department of elementary instruction is discouraging, for although there was an addition of 51 upper primary schools and of 3,162 pupils, this gain was far more than counterbalanced by a loss of no less than 741 lower primary schools with 8,973 pupils. As regards the latter, the following comparative statistics for each division are of interest:—

Division.	1887-88.		1888-89.
	Schools.	Pupils.	Schools.	Pupils.
Presidency	4,520	128,221	4,525	128,996

Total ...	45,595	991,099	44,864	982,126

The scarcity caused by the alternate drought and floods which distinguished the year is assigned, no doubt quite correctly, as an explanation of the decrease in the Burdwan, Patna, Bhagalpore, and Orissa Divisions, and there appears, moreover, to be considerable uncertainty as to the accuracy of the figures supplied by the inspecting pundits, whose trustworthiness is in more than one instance expressly doubted. It is satisfactory to learn that the results of the lower primary scholarship examination of 1889 were more favourable than those of any preceding year of the past decade, with the single exception of 1887, and this notwithstanding the fact that the standard of examination has in some districts been gradually raised. Rupees 20,303 were contributed for the support of primary schools for boys and girls by municipalities, as against Rs. 16,355 in the previous year; a sum of Rs. 10,065 was also spent on 163 primary schools for boys, chiefly under missionary management, from the grant-in-aid fund; and 148 schools received Rs. 13,592 from the grant for circle schools. The following statement gives the financial results of the administration of the primary grant in the different divisions, showing the funds made available in each and the manner in which they were expended:—

The annual cost per pupil varied from 6·7 annas in Howrah to 125·3 annas in the Chittagong Hill Tracts, and that per school from 8·2 rupees in Cuttack to 104·7 rupees in the Chittagong Hill Tracts. The average cost for each school was 18·3 rupees, and for each pupil 12·2 annas, against Rs. 17·6 and annas 11·4, respectively, in the preceding year. The extraordinary cheapness with which elementary education is imparted, as shown by these figures, is due to the general adoption of the plan of payment-by-results, which is, under present financial limitations, the only efficient and admissible system. The remark in the report that the Rajshahye District Board merely proposes to revert to that system is scarcely satisfactory in view of the observations made in last year's Resolution. The Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to learn that the exceptional departure made by the District Board in question, and condemned as at variance with the rules and inconsistent with the educational policy of Government, has been finally abandoned.

It will be observed on a comparison with the figures furnished in the last report that while the number of law students has fallen considerably, that of medical students has risen. The explanation may probably be that parents have at length had forced on them the fact that the ranks of the former profession are rapidly becoming overstocked, and that better prospects are offered in the latter. The Committee appointed in 1887 to enquire into the condition of the Seebpore Civil Engineering College submitted their report in the course of the year, and the subject is still under consideration in connection with a special enquiry now being made by Mr. E. W. Collin, C.S., with a view to the promotion of technical education generally. The attendance at the Government School of Art again advanced from 158 to 172, and the expenditure from public revenues from Rs. 24,978 to Rs. 25,462. The students in the technical classes are reported by the Superintendent to have done excellent work, and special lectures have been instituted for those desirous of becoming teachers. Several handsome medals have been presented, principally in connection with the Calcutta Art Society, by His Excellency the Viceroy, Sir Alfred Croft, the Burra Thakur of Tipperah, and Maharaja Sir Jotendro Mohun Tagore.

Female education.

11. The annexed statement conveys in a convenient form information as to the attendance at, and expenditure on, schools for girls during the year as compared with the corresponding figures for 1887-88:—

A considerable decline from 37,785 to 35,079 in the number of girls attending boys' schools converted the gain shown in this statement into a net loss of 856 female pupils under instruction. In the Calcutta Medical College five female students read for the University degree in medicine, while 19 attended the special certificate class, and of 14 first-year female students at the Campbell Medical College, 10 obtained promotion and one was ordered to be re-examined after an interval of three months. At Cuttack two ladies attended Dr. Bovill's lectures, and one of them passed third out of 11 candidates. Special scholarships were for the first time awarded to girls in Calcutta and its neighbourhood, and the standards prescribed at these have been found so suitable for girls' schools generally that their extension to the mofussil has lately been sanctioned.

Education of Europeans.

12. There were on the 31st March 71 European schools, with a roll of 6,682 pupils, against 72 schools, and 6,541 pupils at the close of the preceding year. The only Government school of this class is the boarding establishment at Kurseong, which has recently undergone a necessary and useful change from a mixed school to an institution exclusively for boys. No male candidate appeared at the high school examination, and, as a similar result was reported last year, it appears that the special examination does not present the same attraction as that for entrance to the Calcutta University. The concession made by the University in prescribing drawing as an optional subject at the Entrance examination is welcomed as a move in the right direction; and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes eventually to see introduced an alternative standard at the matriculation examination, adapted more completely to the requirements of those who require an education not altogether literary.

Education of Muhammadans.

13. The report shows an advance in the total number of Muhammadan pupils from 401,671 to 423,564, and it is observed that the increase has taken place principally, although not exclusively, in private schools. The annual income of the educational portion of the Mohsin endowment is approximately Rs. 63,100, and the expenditure from this source incurred in the course of the year amounted to Rs. 60,053-5. The number of successful Muhammadan candidates has increased in all the departmental examinations, except the lower primary, and there passed 18 and 21 Muhammadan B.A's. and F.A's. respectively, against 12 and 19 in the previous year. On the other hand there were only half as many successful Muhammadan candidates for admission to the University—a marked falling off, which is but imperfectly explained by the greater strictness with which the examination was this year conducted. The number of pupils attending madrassas under the management of Government was 1,456, against 1,229 in the previous year, and the increase was shared by all of these institutions, with the exception of that at Cox's Bazar, in the district of Chittagong. On the whole, it would appear that education is making progress among Muhammadans, a result which has long been aimed at by Government; but that the improvement is not rapid, and that unremitting attention to the subject on the part of departmental officers is still requisite. In order to secure special supervision, two Muhammadan Assistant Inspectors were appointed during the year—Moulvie Ahmad, M.A., and Moulvie Ibrahim, B.A. The Officiating Director observes that "in the instructions given to the Inspectors of these circles, the object of their appointment has been generally described as the improvement of Muhammadan education in schools of every class. With this purpose the Assistant Inspectors are to ascertain and report to the Inspectors the special educational wants of Muhammadans, and to endeavour to acquire influence with those in authority among their co-religionists in order to induce them to introduce into their system of education useful secular subjects, such as arithmetic, accounts, and the local vernacular. One of the points on which enquiry is particularly prescribed is the distribution of the Mohsin Fund. It is to be hoped that the Assistant Inspectors may be able to make such suggestions for the allotment of this fund as will make it even more serviceable to the cause of Muhammadan education than it is at present."

Indigenous education and education of aborigines.

14. The total number of indigenous institutions rose from 10,048 with 96,721 pupils to 11,709 with 117,284 pupils, a loss in the Presidency, Calcutta, Burdwan, Rajshahye and Chota Nagpore Divisions having been more than counterbalanced by a gain elsewhere. The number of aboriginal pupils declined from 28,290 to 27,246, and the decrease was spread over all except the Orissa, Patna, and Chota Nagpore Divisions. Four hundred and nine candidates of aboriginal descent passed the various departmental examinations of the year, 378 of them by the lower primary scholarship standard, 15 by the upper primary, and the few remaining by the middle vernacular and middle English scholarship tests.

15. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Sir Alfred Croft for his successful administration of the department, and to Mr. Tawney for his excellent review of the year's progress.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

CALCUTTA, the 26th November 1889.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 22ND OF NOVEMBER 1889.

THE principal feature in the meteorology of the previous week had been the formation of a cyclonic storm on the 13th in the Bay to the west of the Andaman Islands. On the 14th and 15th the storm had drifted very slowly in a westerly direction towards the Coromandel coast, and on the 15th, or the last day of the previous week, it was, so far as could be determined, rather to the west of the centre of the Bay, and the centre was perhaps almost in the latitude of Madras, or a little to the south of it. On the 16th and 17th pressure continued to fall moderately to rapidly along the Madras coast, while it was falling slowly, or in some cases even rising, elsewhere round the Bay. It was therefore evident that the storm was still drifting very slowly towards the Coromandel coast, and on the latter date the centre was still some distance off the land and to the east or east-north-east of Madras. At this time all the indications appeared to point to the probability that the storm would continue its westerly advance and cross the coast somewhere to the north of Madras, or certainly not further north than Masulipatam or Cocconada; but by the morning of the 18th it had advanced slightly in a northerly direction, and the centre was probably off the coast between Nellore and Masulipatam, and on the morning of the 19th the northerly advance had become much more pronounced, and the centre was almost opposite Vizagapatam. During the 19th the storm continued to move slowly along the coast, and on the morning of the 20th, at about 4 a.m., the centre of the storm struck the coast close to Gopalpore, and probably a little to the north of that station, and between it and Pooree. A decidedly low pressure was registered near the centre of the storm, and at Gopalpore at 2 a.m., when the centre must have been still some little distance off, the very low pressure of 29·478 inches was recorded. Contrary to the usual behaviour of large and decidedly intense storms, the storm in question did not advance far inland, but it seems to have expended its main force over the sea and land area near the coast line, and directly the storm struck the coast, it commenced to break up and disintegrate very rapidly, and by 8 a.m. pressure at Gopalpore had risen to 29·684 inches, and by the following morning it had risen to 29·819 inches, when the storm had almost entirely ceased to exist, though a diffused area of depression still was reported over the northern part of the Bay. There are indeed no indications that the storm centre penetrated far into Orissa after striking the coast, and it certainly did not pass into the Central Provinces. It therefore presents rather a remarkable example of the very rapid disintegration of a decidedly powerful storm.

The storm was accompanied by the usual cyclonic circulation of winds, and this circulation was clearly noticeable at the coast-stations as the storm advanced up the Bay. The main force of the wind circulation appears to have been in the northern quadrant of the storm, and as the storm advanced along the coast, rather stormy or squally weather was reported, first at Madras, then at Nellore, then at Masulipatam, Cocconada, Vizagapatam, and Bimlipatam; and finally stormy weather set in along the whole of the Orissa and Ganjam coasts, and from Balasore down to Gopalpore in particular very stormy weather was reported. These strong winds also extended to some distance inland, and probably the whole of Orissa and Ganjam experienced heavy winds, if they did not amount to a decided gale. The highest wind velocities reported during the storm were at Gopalpore, near which the centre crossed, and during the greater part of the afternoon and night of the 19th and the early part of the 20th, wind velocity at that station averaged from 60 to 66 miles an hour. The storm also had a very wide influence, and squally, or perhaps rather stormy, weather prevailed over a considerable part of the Bay throughout the existence of the storm. Very heavy rain was also received over the area under the influence of the storm, and Pooree, in the twenty-four hours from 8 a.m. of the 19th to the same time of the 20th, recorded 10·84 inches of rain, Gopalpore received 6·63 inches, False Point 6·94 inches, Cuttack 5·67 inches, Kendrapara 5·50 inches, etc. The wave of moist winds brought up by the storm advanced over the whole of South-West Bengal and East Bengal and over the southern parts of Chutia Nagpur, but apparently the inrush of winds did not penetrate to any extent into Behar or North Bengal. Thus the heavy rainfall brought up by the storm only extended to Orissa and North-West and East Bengal and parts of Chutia Nagpur, and only isolated showers were brought to the other districts by this cause. It was, however, mentioned under the meteorology of the previous week that a kind of small offshoot from the storm in the Bay, or an advance of moist winds connected with the outlying parts of the storm, had drifted towards Bengal, and from the effects of this during the early part of the week light to moderate rainfall had been fairly general in practically all districts of the province. Thus from the two causes combined, general rainfall has been recorded in all districts, the amounts varying from an average of about eight inches in Orissa down to about a third of an inch in North Behar.

Though the storm had practically ceased to exist after the 20th, disturbed conditions brought by the storm continued almost to the close of the week, and though on Friday, the 22nd, conditions generally were becoming decidedly more normal, particularly in the Bay, yet over almost the whole of the southern half of the province the sky was on this day almost overcast, and weather was dull and gloomy. Over the northern half of the province, however, weather was becoming again rapidly fine and more settled, and it was clear that ordinary cold-weather conditions were very slowly re-establishing themselves over the province.

Pressure.—The changes of pressure during the week have practically entirely depended on the advance of the storm towards the Orissa coast and towards the south-western districts of the province generally, and its subsequent filling up and disappearance. Thus the mean pressure for the week has been generally rather largely below the normal, and at False Point in particular an average defect of no less than 0·139 inch is recorded, while at Cuttack the defect is 0·125 inch. Generally the pressures over Orissa and the neighbouring districts of South-West Bengal for the week have been about a tenth of an inch below the normal, while elsewhere they are much smaller, decreasing to about three or four-hundredths of an inch in North Bengal.

Temperature.—The variations of temperature from the normal have been large, and at most stations owing to the heavily-clouded skies the day or maximum temperatures have been decidedly low, though of course accompanied by excessively high humidity, while from the same cause the night or minimum temperatures have been exceedingly high. In certain districts the effects of the one have almost neutralized the other, but in other cases the change in the night temperatures has been more marked than in those of the day, and hence the mean temperature has been largely above the normal. This is particularly the case in Behar and North Bengal, where the average mean temperature is about 4° above the normal, but in other districts the excess is much smaller than this. For the whole province the mean temperature has been between two and three degrees above the normal

The general temperatures recorded in the various districts of the province during the week and the range from day to night, together with the variation from the normal values, are best seen in the following table, where the average, maximum, minimum, and mean temperatures at nine typical stations in the province for the week are compared with their normal values for the same period. It will be seen that generally the day temperatures have been rather largely in defect, while the night temperatures have been more than correspondingly in excess, the excess in the latter case in many instances varying from six to nine degrees :—

Rainfall.—The distribution and cause of the rainfall have been alluded to under the general summary. The average fall in Orissa has been 7·70 inches; in South-West Bengal the falls have averaged 3·22 inches, and in East Bengal 2·50 inches. In Chutia Nagpur the amounts have averaged about 1 inch, and in North Bengal and South Behar they have averaged from half to two-thirds of an inch. The smallest fall has been in North Behar, where it has only equalled about a third of an inch. It need scarcely be stated that these falls are particularly large for the time of year, and very largely in excess of the normal, and the heaviness of the falls at some stations has been very exceptional. Thus Gopalpore, Pooree, and False Point have each received from twelve and-a-half to thirteen and-a-half inches of rain in the week; Cuttack and Kendrapara have received about nine inches; Jajpur and Jagatsingpur about seven inches, and so on; while even in South-West Bengal, Chooadanga records 8·40 inches; Kishnaghur, Jhenida, and Magoora more than seven inches; Contai, Saugor Island, Gungajalghati, Kooshtea, and Jessore from five to seven inches; and a good many stations falls in excess of four and three inches.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 22nd of November 1889 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

N B.—In the weekly report from 10th to 16th November 1889 read "73 3" for "73 8" as the dew point on the 15th November.

MEMORANDUM.

From the annexed table exhibiting the mortuary statistics of the districts in Bengal for the month of September 1889, it appears:—

1. That the deaths of 135,179 persons were registered out of a population of 65,859,534 in these districts, presenting a death-rate of 24·60 per 1,000 per annum, against 23·04 per 1,000 during the preceding month, and 22·20 per 1,000 during the corresponding month of 1888, indicating, as compared with both the past periods, a considerable advance in the registration of deaths.

2 That the following districts furnished the highest proportions of deaths:—

Districts.	Ratio per mille.	Districts.	Ratio per mille.
Monghyr	45·96	Hughli	28·20
Shahabad	42·84	Balasore	28·20
Gya	42 24	Poori	26 62
Lohardugga	38 28	Birbhum	26 28
Patna	36·84	Sarun	26·04
Darjiling	35·52	Murshedabad	25 44
Bhagulpore	31·80	Cuttack	25 32
Hazaribagh	30 60	Dinajpur	25·20
Serampore	29·88	Julpaiguri	25·20

3. That the mortality from the principal diseases stood as exhibited below, in contrast with the results of the corresponding month of the preceding year:—

	Ratio per mille during—
	September 1889.	September 1888.
Cholera	1·32	1·20
Small-pox	·10	·02
Fever	17·52	15·96
Bowel-complaints	·84	·72
Injury	·72	·60
Other causes	3·84	8·36

The only noticeable fact disclosed by the above figures is that the mortality from fever has sensibly increased.

4. NOTIFICATION No. 189Mne.

The 2nd December 1889.—Under section 18 of Act IV of 1884 (the Indian Explosives Act), the following draft of special rules, which the Lieutenant-Governor proposes to issue under section 5 of the Act, is published for general information. These rules will be taken into consideration on the expiry of a month from the date of their first publication in the Calcutta Gazette, and the Lieutenant-Governor will receive and give due attention to any objections or suggestions which may be made by any person within that period.

C. W. I. HARRISON, Lieut.-Col., R.E.,
Offg. Joint-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

Draft of special rules under Section 5, Act IV of 1884, for the regulation of the transport and importation of explosives in the Port of Calcutta.

N. B.—"Explosive" as defined in section 4, Act IV of 1884, and as used in these rules—

(a) means gunpowder, nitro-glycerine, dynamite, gun-cotton, blasting powder, fulminate of mercury or of other metals, coloured fires, and every other substance, whether similar to those above-mentioned or not, used or manufactured with a view to produce a practical effect by explosion or a pyrotechnic effect; and

(b) includes fog-signals, fireworks, fuzes, rockets, percussion caps, detonators, cartridges, ammunition of all descriptions, and every adaptation or preparation of an explosive as above defined.

1. Except as is hereinafter provided for, no vessel shall have on board, within the limits of the port, any explosive, as defined in section 4, Act IV of 1884, except 15lbs. common gunpowder, in addition to 12 rockets and 12 blue-lights. All explosives which vessels are by this rule permitted to keep on board shall be stored in a copper magazine out of risk of fire and explosion.

All explosives which by this rule may be ordinarily retained on board vessels in port shall be discharged before a vessel is taken into dry dock.

2. All inward-bound vessels carrying explosives in excess of 15lbs. of common gunpowder, in addition to 12 rockets and 12 blue-lights, are prohibited from proceeding above Budge-Budge, and the master of any vessel lying within the port, which shall have on board any explosive, in contravention of these rules, shall be liable to the penalty provided in section 5 of Act IV of 1884.

3. Explosives of classes 1, 6, and 7, as laid down in the rules issued under Government of India Notification No. 1417, dated 24th June 1887, that is to say, gunpowder, ammunition and fireworks, in excess of the quantity prescribed in rules 1 and 2, shall be landed and deposited in the magazine at Moyapore

4. For the convenience of vessels having ship's gunpowder on board, a properly constructed powder-boat will be always in attendance off the magazine, for landing and shipping the powder. No charge will be made for the use of the boat for landing ship's powder, but the responsibility of the keeper in respect of the ship's powder shall not commence until it is landed on the bank, and shall cease as soon as it is shipped on board the boat. Every precaution will be taken to ensure the safety of the powder while in the boat, but the landing and shipping shall be at the risk of the vessel.

5. Vessels bringing consignments of trade explosives shall be allowed the use of the magazine boat, but should passing vessels require the use of the boat to put out or take in ship's powder, such vessels shall be accommodated before the boat can be used to discharge explosives brought as cargo. The landing of such consignments, whether the station boats or private boats are employed, shall be at the risk and expense of the consignees of the explosives, and no liability shall be accepted for damage sustained while in course of landing, or until the consignments are stored in the magazine.

6. Government breech-loading small-arm ammunition may, by the Agent for Government consignments, be loaded on, or unloaded from, any vessel in the Port of Calcutta, at her moorings at any time, and such ammunition may, by the Agent for Government Consignments, be loaded from, or loaded in, the Fort William Arsenal vans at any place most convenient, instead of at Fort Point only. But such ammunition shall not be unloaded or stored at the Docks or Jetties without special sanction from the Port Commissioners.

7. Explosives specified in the first division, class 6 of the rules, published under Government of India's Notification No. 1417, dated 24th June 1887, viz., safety cartridges, safety fuzes for blasting, railway fog-signals, and percussion caps, brought as part of a general cargo, and which have been placed on board the vessels while lying in dock at ports of shipment, may be brought into port, and landed at the Docks or Jetties, in accordance with the regulations prescribed in that behalf in the Port Commissioners' Bye-laws.

8. In order to avoid unnecessary detention, masters of vessels requiring the use of the powder-boat shall hoist a flag at the foretopmast head on coming in sight of the magazine, as a signal to the keeper to have the boat and coolies in attendance.

9. Masters of vessels shall mark the names of their respective vessels on the barrels and packages of ship's gunpowder previously to their being landed: if not marked, they shall not be received by the magazine boat.

10. Explosives shall not be landed or received into, or delivered from, the magazine when artificial lights are required to be used.

11. The magazine-keeper shall give to the master of any vessel landing explosives at the magazine, a receipt for the number of packages, and the magazine-keeper shall be accountable to such master for the re-delivery of such packages.

12. Before entering the limits of the port, the master of every vessel having explosives on board shall make and sign a declaration in writing, that to his knowledge and belief there is not on board any explosive, exceeding the quantity prescribed in these rules.

13. A clerk shall be always in attendance in the powder-boat, and shall receive from the master the declaration specified in the foregoing rules.

14. If any vessel shall be prevented, by stress of weather or by being in distress, from landing or depositing such explosives in excess of the quantity allowed as aforesaid, such vessel may be permitted to come up to the lower limits of the port, but shall not proceed above Matteabrooj Ghât, and the master of such vessel shall forthwith give notice to the Harbour Master of his having such explosives on board, and shall obey the Harbour Master's directions relating to the same.

15. Masters of vessels outward-bound, who may require ship's gunpowder for their outward voyage, shall not take such powder on board in any part of the river above Budge-Budge, with the exception of a quantity not exceeding 15lbs. of common gunpowder, in addition to 12 rockets and 12 blue-lights.

16. Masters of vessels who have deposited ship's powder at the magazine shall inform the Harbour Master of the date on which the vessel will pass the magazine outward-bound, and on receipt of this information, orders shall be forwarded to the keeper to place the powder in the boat and send it off in such time as to avoid any detention of the outward-bound vessel. Before taking the powder on board, the receipt granted by the magazine-keeper shall be given up.

17. Boats shall be permitted to take on board at the Moyapore magazine and bring, as far as Neemuck Mehal Ghât, under cover of passes to be granted by the Commissioner of Police and the Port Commissioners, 50lbs. of trade gunpowder, the property of dealers and consignees.

18. Delivery of trade powder into boats at the Moyapore magazine for conveyance to Calcutta shall only be granted upon orders issued by the Port Commissioners.

19. No boat containing powder under the provisions of Rules 17 and 18 shall be allowed to proceed above Neemuck Mehal Ghât. All such powder shall be landed at Neemuck Mehal Ghât, and no powder shall be landed at any other ghât, except with the special permission of the Port Commissioners.

20. No smoking and no fire or light of any description shall be permitted on board of any boat having explosives on board.

21. No explosives shall be landed within the port at any time when artificial lights are required to be used.

22. Masters of vessels having on board explosives belonging to the following classes as laid down in the rules prescribed in the notification of the Government of India, Home Department, No. 1417, dated 24th June 1887, must make their own arrangements for the discharge of the explosives—

CLASS 2.—Nitrate mixture.
" 3.—Nitro compound.
" 4.—Chlorate mixture.
" 5.—Fulminate.

23. Explosives of the classes specified in the foregoing rule shall not be landed at the Moyapore magazine, and shall only be allowed to enter and pass through the port under the supervision of the Port Police and subject to such restrictions as may from time to time be ordered by the Commissioner of Police and the Port Commissioners in addition to the restrictions laid down in the rules promulgated by the Government of India under notification No. 1417, dated 24th June 1887.

24. Boats containing explosives of the classes specified in the two foregoing rules shall in no case anchor within port limits, or be made fast at any part of the river bank or alongside any vessel, stage, jetty, or pier within the limits of the port. Such boats, if allowed to enter port, shall proceed direct through the port to the place licensed by the Local Government for the landing and storage of the explosives.

1.—The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6.—The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazeepore Factory for the year 1888-89, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazeepore Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L. P.,

K. G. GUPTA, Offg. Secretary.

3. No saltpetre shall be manufactured or refined, and no salt shall be educed therefrom, except under and in accordance with the conditions of a license as hereinafter prescribed.

4. Applications for licenses shall be made to the Salt Revenue Officer in charge of the division or circle in which the works are situated, who may grant the application on receipt of the prescribed license fee.

5 No license shall be granted for the manufacture of crude saltpetre, unless the licensing officer is satisfied that the soil in the vicinity of the place of manufacture and the soil from which the said crude saltpetre is to be produced do not contain such a percentage of chloride of sodium as to render the manufacture a source of danger to the salt revenue, and unless the works are so situated that they can without difficulty be supervised by the Salt Revenue Department.

6. As a general rule no refinery shall be licensed until the parties applying for a license have satisfied the licensing officer that they are prepared to produce within the period of the license not less than two hundred maunds of refined saltpetre.

7. No refinery shall be licensed until the parties applying for a license have satisfied the licensing officer that the refinery buildings and premises are so constructed and surrounded by a wall as to afford full security for the levy of the duty on salt educed therein.

8 The following fees shall be levied in prepayment for licenses for each description of work.—

1st.—That the provisions of the Act and of all rules duly made under it shall be strictly observed by the licensee, his agents, and servants.

2nd.—That no process for refining the crude saltpetre shall be resorted to.

3rd.—That the plant specified in the license shall not be altered, or the locality of the works changed, without written sanction from the Salt Revenue Officer in charge of the circle.

10. The license for the manufacture and refinement of saltpetre and for the eduction of salt therefrom shall contain the name of the person to whom it is given, and shall specify the place where such refinement of saltpetre and eduction of salt may be carried on and the approximate quantity of saltpetre to be refined, and shall also contain the following conditions —

1st.—That the provisions of the Act and of all rules duly passed under it shall be strictly observed by the licensee and his agents and servants

2nd.—That the refinery buildings and surrounding walls shall be kept in good repair to the satisfaction of the Salt Revenue Officer in charge of the circle, and so as to afford full security for the Government revenue.

3rd.—That the number of pans and boilers specified in the license shall not be altered without the written sanction of the Salt Revenue Officer in charge of the circle.

4th.—That the licensee shall maintain a daily register showing the quantity of crude saltpetre purchased or manufactured, of the saltpetre refined therefrom, and of the salt educed from such saltpetre, and of the quantities of any of these substances which may be sold and removed from the refinery.

5th.—That no saline substance other than refined saltpetre shall be removed from the refinery except with the written sanction of the Salt Revenue Officer of the circle, and if the substance is by law subject to the payment of duty, on payment of two rupees and eight annas per maund of such substance, or of such other duty as may for the time being be imposed by the Governor-General in Council, under section 7 of the Act; provided that, with the written sanction of the Salt Revenue Officer of the circle, any saline substance subject to the payment of duty may without such payment be so removed for destruction at some convenient place outside the refinery under the supervision of the Salt Revenue Officer of the circle, or other Salt Revenue Officer named in the section.

And shall be subject to such further conditions as the Commissioner may from time to time prescribe for the protection of the Government revenue.

11. All licenses granted under these rules shall be for a period ending on or before the 31st July following the date of their issue, and shall on expiry be returned to the Salt Revenue Officer.

12. Duplicates of licenses lost or destroyed during the period of their currency may be obtained on payment of one-quarter of the original license fee

13. Every licensee shall produce his license for inspection when called upon to do so by any officer of the Salt Revenue Department not below the rank of Inspector or by any subordinate deputed by him for the purpose.

14 All licensed works and all premises connected therewith shall be open at all times by day or night to the inspection of any such officer or subordinate deputed by him for the purpose.

15 All diaries, registers, books of account, and the like connected with the business of licensed works, shall at all times be open to the inspection of any such officer or of any subordinate deputed by him for the purpose

Subject to such directions as the Commissioner may give from time to time, it shall be at the discretion of the Superintendent or Inspector from time to time to cause such salt to be weighed in his presence and removed from the bonded store-house. The licensee shall within twenty-four hours subsequent to such weighment and before the removal of the salt, pay the duty leviable thereon

17. When salt has thus been weighed and the duty paid, it shall with all possible despatch be removed to a distance of more than one hundred yards from any part of the refinery premises under a pass signed by the said Superintendent or Inspector.

The pass shall be current for such period not exceeding twenty-four hours as may be deemed necessary for the removal of the salt.

A pass shall not be granted for a less quantity than twenty maunds, except for the purpose of emptying the store-house.

18. Except as hereinbefore provided or with the permission of the Assistant Commissioner of Salt Revenue, no person shall possess any salt at any place within the limits of, or within one hundred yards from the nearest point of, any saltpetre manufactory or refinery and its appurtenances.

19 If any licensee under the foregoing rules fails during the period of the license to carry on effective working at the place at which he is licensed to carry on the same, the licensing officer may suspend the license until the licensee is prepared to resume effective working there

20. In all cases in which illicitly manufactured salt or saltpetre is seized by any Salt Revenue Officer below the grade of Superintendent, such officer shall at once proceed with the salt or saltpetre so seized, and any person concerned in the manufacture that he may have been able to arrest and any independent witnesses to the seizure whose attendance he may be able to secure, to the nearest police post The senior officer present at such police post shall receive from the seizing officer the salt or saltpetre so seized, and in the presence of witnesses and accused shall, after weighing and recording the weight of each, take from each distinct kind or quality of salt or saltpetre seized (if there be more than one such kind or quality) two samples of not less than one tolah each, which he shall seal with the official seal of the police station, and after numbering them deliver them to the officer who made the seizure, recording at the same time a note on the printed form of seizure which will be presented to him, specifying the total weight of each kind seized according to the weighments made before him, and the corresponding numbers of the samples. The remainder of the salt or saltpetre shall be sealed up with the seal of the officer who made the seizure and of the police station, and shall remain in the malkhana or other secure place in such station until such time as a written order shall be sent by the Superintendent of the Circle either for the destruction of the articles seized which shall be carried into effect by the officer presenting such request in the presence of some officer of the police station, and the same certified on the reverse of the order, or for the delivery of the same or part thereof, as the case may be, to the bearer of the order for production in Court

21. When a seizure is made by a Superintendent in person, he may either follow the foregoing procedure, deputing one of his subordinates present at the seizure to take the salt or saltpetre to the station and receive the samples, or he may himself on the spot take out and seal up the samples and the rest of the seized salt or saltpetre with his own official seal. He may then either take the salt or saltpetre seized with him to deposit where he considers it will be safest or send it for deposit to the nearest or most accessible police station, to be kept, as in the previous case, until further orders. If, however, the Superintendent himself seals the salt or saltpetre, he must, in the event of the identity of the salt or saltpetre produced in Court being denied by the accused, be prepared to attend and prove the same in person.

22. When anything is seized and detained under the Act or the rules made under the Act, it shall not be released until all duty, penalties, and charges due on account thereof have been paid by the owner to the Salt Revenue Officer who is in possession of such thing.

If the thing is reported for confiscation, it shall not be released unless orders for the release are received from competent authority.

23. If an animal is so seized and detained, the owner shall provide for its due care and keep, in default of which the animal may be sold to defray charges.

LIBERALITY OF BABU LUCHAND DILSUKRAJ.

Dated Calcutta, the 28th November 1889.

From—H. J. S. COTTON, Esq., Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department,

To—The Commissioner of the Orissa Division.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 386S.G., dated the 9th November 1889, in which you report that with a view to remove the inconvenience at present suffered by pilgrims owing to the absence of a suitable rest-house at the place where they land in the district of Cuttack on their way to Puri, Babu Luchand Dilsukraj, a Marwari gentleman of Calcutta, has made the munificent gift of Rs. 8,000 for the construction of a masonry rest-house, and has also presented the iron girders and rafters required. It is the donor's intention that the building, which is now in course of construction, should be placed under the charge of the Magistrate of Cuttack.

2. In reply, I am directed to say that the Lieutenant-Governor has much pleasure in acknowledging the liberality of Babu Luchund Dilsukraj, and to request that the thanks of Government may be conveyed to him. The building will, as proposed, remain under he charge of the Magistrate of the district.

This letter will be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

From—Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India,
To—His Excellency the Most Hon'ble the Governor-General of India in Council.

MY LORD MARQUIS,—I transmit, for the information of His Excellency in Council, copy of a letter from the Imperial Institute, regarding a school for Modern Oriental Studies established by the Governing Body of that Institute.

2nd July 1889.

2. Copies of the printed statement of particulars referred to in Sir F. A. Abel's letter are also forwarded.

No. $\frac{42}{14}$, dated 2nd July 1889, 1, Adam Street, Adelphi, W.C.

From—SIR F. A. ABEL, Secretary of the Imperial Institute of the United Kingdom, the Colonies and India,
To—The Under-Secretary of State for India, India Office.

I HAVE received the instructions of His Royal Highness the President of the Institute to request that you will be so good as to bring to the notice of the Secretary of State for India in Council the accompanying statement of particulars respecting a "School for Modern Oriental Studies" which has been established by the Governing Body of the Imperial Institute, in co-operation with the Councils of University College and King's College, London, with the object of supplying the requirements of those seeking official employment, and of officials holding appointments, in connection with which a practical knowledge of one or other of the Modern Oriental Languages is indispensable or desirable.

It has been represented to the Governing Body of the Institute that the tuition and facilities to be afforded by the School, which it is intended should correspond in character to those provided by important State Modern Oriental Schools in Germany, France, and Austro-Hungary, will be, in many directions, of great assistance and value, not only to those seeking employment or holding appointments in the Indian Civil Service, but also to natives.

The languages to be dealt with in the school comprise, in Division I, Sanskrit, Bengali, Hindi, Hindustani, Tamil, Telugu, Punjabi, Pali, Marathi, Gujarati, Arabic and Persian; and, in Division II, Colloquial Arabic, Chinese, Burmese, Modern Greek, Colloquial Persian, Japanese, Russian, Turkish, Malay, and Swaheli.

I am instructed to express a hope that Lord Cross may deem it desirable to cause measures to be taken for officially directing the attention of the Government of India to the existence of the new school of Modern Oriental Studies, and to afford it such official recognition as may be in his power to bestow.

School for Modern Oriental Studies established by the Imperial Institute of the United Kingdom, the Colonies and India in union with University College and King's College, London.

THE Commercial and Official classes in the United Kingdom, whose pursuits entail either temporary residence in, or visits to, Oriental Countries and communion or correspondence with the natives of those Countries, have long experienced the want of facilities which might be afforded by a sufficiently comprehensive public Institution, where a practical and colloquial acquaintance with the more important Modern Oriental Languages might be acquired.

In France, Germany, and Austria-Hungary, there exist Institutions of magnitude and importance, for affording instruction in the spoken and written Oriental dialects and in matters relating to the history, commerce and political economy of the Countries in which those languages are spoken.

In France, the School of Living Oriental Languages, which was founded nearly 100 years ago, receives from the State the free use of a large building and a grant of over £6,000 per annum; gratuitous instruction is there given in the Chief Modern Oriental Languages, and a commercial section has recently been added to it by the Minister of Public Instruction.

The Imperial Oriental Academy of Vienna has long been of world-wide celebrity and has greatly contributed to the extension of commerce in Austria-Hungary, whilst in Berlin, the Imperial German School of Living Oriental Languages, established a year ago upon a very important footing, has already received considerable development. This school is supported by an annual subvention of £3,600, and the tuition there is entirely gratuitous.

Although the scope of action of the Imperial Institute, as defined by its Charter, does not embrace the exercise of actual educational functions, its Governing Body has considered that the creation and development of an organisation for providing, in the United Kingdom, the important aid to the Official and Commercial sections of the community which is furnished to Continental Nations by such establishments as above named, might prove a work of considerable utility.

There have existed at University College and at King's College, since their foundation, Professorships of certain Oriental Languages; the Indian School of University College on the one hand, and the Oriental section of King's College on the other, have accomplished useful work in the preparation of candidates for the Indian Civil Service and other Government Departments, by affording facilities for the study of some of the Eastern Languages.

The Committee of the Institute, having met with a cordial response from the Councils of the two Colleges, to a proposal to consolidate the work of this nature now being performed there, and to bring it into harmonious working with a scheme for affording practical instruction in other important Oriental Languages, now desire to direct attention to the results of a careful consideration of the whole subject by a Special Committee, appointed by them for that purpose, which includes representatives of the Councils of University and King's Colleges, and of which the following are the members:—

Sir Frederick Abel, C.B., D.C.L., D.Sc., F.R.S. (Chairman).
Col. Sir Edward Bradford, K.C.S.I.
Sir Francis Dillon Bell, K.C.M.G., C.B.
Col. Sir Charles Wilson, R.E., K.C.B., K.C.M.G.
Sir Thomas Wade, G.C.M.G., K.C.B.
Maj.-Gen. Sir Frederic Goldsmid, K.C.S.I., C.B.
Sir Philip Magnus.
Major C. M. Watson, R.E., C.M.G.
Sir George Young, Bart., LL.D. ... ... } Nominated by the Council
Professor Henry Morley, LL.D. ... ... } of University College.
The Rev. Henry Wace, D.D. ... ... } Nominated by the Council
Professor R. K. Douglas ... ... } of King's College.

Arrangements have been completed by this Committee and approved of by the Governing Bodies of the Imperial Institute and of the two Colleges, for the organisation of a School in London, designed both for giving instruction in Modern Oriental Languages and also for the pursuit of studies relating to the history, literature, commercial and physical geography, political economy and the natural and industrial resources of the countries and districts in which the various languages are used.

It is in contemplation to arrange for the delivery of special lectures or courses of lectures from time to time, in connection with the school, by Experts or Specialists, in any of the foregoing subjects.

This school will be carried on under the immediate direction of the Committee above specified.

The classes which the "School of Modern Oriental Studies" comprises, are divided under two Heads.

Division I—Includes classes for all Oriental Languages especially required by students qualifying for examinations for the Indian Civil Service, the instruction being of the same character as that provided for some time past at University College and at King's College.

These classes will, from the commencement of the Autumn Term of 1889, be continued at University College, and will be conducted under regulations common to the other classes which combine with them to constitute the General School.

This division includes instruction in Sanskrit, Bengali, Hindi, Hindustani, Tamil, Telugu, Punjabi, Pali, Marathi, Gujarati, Arabic and Persian.

Division II—Consists mainly of classes for Modern Oriental Languages other than the Indian Languages.

The courses of tuition will be of a practical rather than of an academic character; they will have particular reference to commercial and official requirements and to the facilitation of colloquial intercouse with natives of Oriental Countries.

It is in contemplation, so soon as the number of students warrants the expenditure, to secure the services of native readers and teachers of conversation in connection with the classes of this division.

The languages to be taught in Division II comprise Colloquial Arabic, Modern Greek, Colloquial Persian, Russian, Turkish, Chinese, Burmese, Japanese, Malay and Swaheli.

The classes under this division will be conducted at King's College, where arrangements will also be made for the establishment of evening classes.

The names of Instructors and the places where various classes will be held are given below.

There will be three terms, of about ten weeks, in each year, as follows:—
Autumn term—Commencing about the beginning of October.
Spring term—Commencing about the middle of January.
Summer term—Commencing early in May.

The School will open with the Autumn Term of 1889.

A fee of three Guineas per term will have to be paid, in advance, by each student for each language taken up for instruction. This payment will entitle the student to the use, within the Colleges, of text books, dictionaries, and works of reference required in connection with the particular language taught, and to the use of all the facilities which it is proposed to secure in the development of the school.

Accommodation will be provided to enable students to pursue their studies at hours when the classes are not held.

The Libraries of both Colleges will be open to students in any of the classes of the school during the usual hours of study.

Intending students should communicate with the Organising Secretary at the Offices of the Imperial Institute, 1, Adam Street, Adelphi, London, W. C., where the registration of students will take place, and where all information regarding the school will be supplied.

WITHDRAWAL OF THE GILCHRIST SCHOLARSHIP.

The 2nd December 1889.—The following correspondence regarding the withdrawal of the Gilchrist Scholarship is published for general information.

P. NOLAN,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. $\frac{10}{542}$, dated Calcutta, the 23rd November, 1889.

From—J. P. HEWETT, Esq., Under-Secretary to the Govt. of India, Home Dept.,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

WITH reference to the correspondence ending with Home Department Circular No. 5—200-209, dated 18th June, 1888, I am directed to forward the accompanying copy of a despatch* from Her Majesty's Secretary of State, and of its enclosures, and to request that the decision of the Gilchrist Educational Trustees, as conveyed therein, to withdraw, after the award which may be made on the results of the next examination (January 1890), the scholarship hitherto offered annually to youths in India and Ceylon, may be made known to the public.

* No. 102 (Public—Educational), dated 12th September, 1889.

No. 102 (Public—Educational), dated India Office, London, the 12th September, 1889.

From—The Right Hon'ble Viscount Cross, G.C.S.I., Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India,

To—His Excellency the Most Hon'ble the Governor-General of India in Council.

With reference to the despatch from Your Excellency's predecessor in Council, No. 5, dated the 15th of May, 1888, I transmit, for the information of Your Excellency in Council, copy of a letter from the Gilchrist Educational Trust, with its enclosures, stating that the scholarship hitherto offered annually to youths in India and Ceylon will be withdrawn after the next award, and communicating the decision of the Trustees as to the offer of an annual scholarship to the Universities of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay in rotation, and of another scholarship in every third year to the Universities of Punjab and Allahabad jointly, each tenable in Europe for three years by Natives of India.

Dated 14th August, 1889, with three copies of printed enclosures.

2. I shall be glad to receive at an early date any observations which Your Lordship in Council may have to make on this subject, especially as regards the provision by the Government of India of free passages for the scholars, which I presume you will not object to continue.

No. J. & P. 1399—89, dated Westminster Abbey, S. W., the 14th August, 1889.

From—Henry A. Papps, Esq., Secretary, Gilchrist Educational Trust,

To—The Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India.

I have the honour to inform you that the Gilchrist Trustees have decided to withdraw the scholarship hitherto offered annually to youths in India and Ceylon, after the award which may be made on the results of the Matriculation Examination of the University of London, which will be held in January next (1890), and I have to request that Your Lordship will cause this information to be published as soon as may be convenient for the benefit of all whom it may concern in India. Arrangements are being made for a separate scholarship for Ceylon.

I have further to inform Your Lordship that, after careful consideration of the opinions expressed by the heads of numerous Educational institutions in India, the Trustees have decided to offer an annual scholarship of the value of £200 per annum, tenable for three years in Europe, to the Universities of Calcutta, Bombay, and Madras in rotation, and a similar scholarship every third year to the Universities of Allahabad and Punjab jointly.

To carry this intention into effect, the Trustees have, with the advice and assistance of Educational Authorities in England and in India, prepared a scheme with rules and regulations (copies of which are sent herewith), and they propose to forward these direct to the abovenamed Universities for their approval, and for their consent to carry out those portions of the scheme which may devolve upon them.

The Trustees also hope to be assured that in this scheme they will have the approval and co-operation of the Secretary of State and also of the Government of India to whom they ask Your Lordship to communicate this letter with the respectful request that that Government will, as heretofore, pay the expenses to England of the annual Gilchrist Scholar, and also of the additional scholar every third year, the Gilchrist Trust undertaking, also as heretofore, to provide for the return passages of all the scholars who fulfil the conditions of their scholarships.

GILCHRIST INDIAN SCHOLARSHIPS.

Draft Regulations.

1. Three scholarships, the cost of which will be defrayed by the Gilchrist Trust, will be at once established, tenable in Europe by persons who are natives of India [within the meaning of section 6* of the Statute 33 Vict., Cap. 3], or of the "Native States" of India. The scholarships will be given in rotation to the Universities of Calcutta, Bombay, and Madras in the manner and on the conditions set forth in the scheme.

2. A fourth scholarship will be given every third year on like conditions to the Universities of Punjab and Allahabad jointly.

3. Each scholarship will entitle the holder to an allowance of £200 per annum, payable from the date of his arrival in England, and will be tenable for three years. No candidate should be more than 22 years of age. Each candidate to whom a scholarship may be awarded will be required to proceed to England within a reasonable period from the date of his selection, and to reside in Europe for a period of three years, unless compelled to return sooner by ill-health, or some other cause, which may seem sufficient to the Gilchrist Trustees.

4. [It is hoped that] each scholar will be provided, as heretofore by the Government of India, with a free passage to England. The Gilchrist Trust will provide a return passage

* The provision in the section is as follows:—"that for the purpose of this Act the words 'natives of India' shall include any person born and domiciled within the dominions of Her Majesty in India, of parents habitually resident in India and not established there for temporary purposes only; and that it shall be lawful for the Governor-General in Council to define and limit from time to time the qualification of natives of India thus expressed."

at a cost not exceeding £50, provided that the scholar fulfils the conditions of his scholarship. But the scholar will not be entitled to claim any difference between the actual cost of passage and the amount abovenamed.'

5 Each scholar will be required to bind himself by a written engagement to submit to such regulations as may from time to time be framed by the Gilchrist Trustees for the guidance of the scholars.

6. Each University will nominate in the manner laid down in the scheme. Probably the results of the examinations of the three preceding years will be a sufficient guide to the University in making the selection. But it will be open to each University to consider whether for the purpose of such selection a special examination should be held, although the Trustees hope that this will be avoided, if possible. If a special examination is held, the regulations which the University concerned may propose to lay down in regard thereto should be submitted for the previous approval of the Gilchrist Trustees, the necessary arrangements for the conduct of the examinations being made under the orders of the University authorities. It is, however, desirable that the examinations, if any, should be held at such a time (probably not later than the month of June in each year) as will afford the successful candidate a sufficient interval to complete his arrangements and to reach England in time for the Autumn term at the Universities and Colleges. The candidates for the special examinations, when such examinations are held, must be young men of proved ability, and will be selected by the Vice-Chancellor on the report of the Syndicate or governing body, who will in their turn be guided by the opinion of the Professors and Examiners. The candidates for these examinations or the persons elected as scholarship-holders on the results of the ordinary University examinations must in all cases be graduates of the University not more than 22 years of age, who are willing with the consent of their families to proceed to England in order to complete their education in Science, and will be required to satisfy the Vice-Chancellor as to their good conduct, knowledge of the English language, and physical capacity to undergo the course of life and study which they will have to follow in Europe. The tenure of the scholarships will be strictly dependent on good conduct in Europe, and will be conditional on satisfactory progress being made in study. The Gilchrist Trustees reserve to themselves the entire right of deciding on this point, as on all questions relating to the tenure of the scholarships.

A copy of the regulations should be given to the selected candidate, before the scholarship is finally awarded to him, in order that he may know what he is undertaking before he leaves India. On the award of the scholarship being made, the authorities of the University should communicate the name and address of the selected candidate to the Secretary of the Gilchrist Trust, 4, the Sanctuary, Westminster, London; and also, when the selection is made by examination, the number and names, &c., of the candidates from whom the selection was made.

RULES FOR GILCHRIST INDIAN SCHOLARS IN ENGLAND.

(1). Every scholar shall, on reaching England, at once present himself at the Office of the Gilchrist Trust and report his arrival. He shall be provided with an official certificate of identity signed by the Registrar of the University by whom he is selected, or by a Secretary or Under-Secretary to Government.

(2) Every scholar shall on arriving in England, or at latest within four weeks from his arrival, submit, for the approval of the Gilchrist Trustees a statement showing the general course of study he proposes to follow; and specifying the University or College to which he proposes to proceed. After consideration of such statement, the Trustees will decide at what University or Science or Technical College in Europe the scholarship shall be tenable, and will prescribe the course to be gone through and the degree or diploma to be obtained. Every scholar shall at once take steps to enter himself at the University or College which the Trustees shall have approved The course finally prescribed by the Trustees shall not be changed without their sanction

(3). Every scholar shall at the end of each University term send to the Secretary of the Gilchrist Trust a certificate from the proper College or University authority, showing that his residence, conduct, and progress in study have been satisfactory during the term.

(4). Every scholar shall at all times obey such instructions as he may receive from the Gilchrist Trustees

(5). Subject to a due compliance with the above conditions, the allowance, at the rate of £200 a year for three years, will be paid quarterly, in advance, by the Gilchrist Trust, commencing from the date when the scholar reports his arrival in England.

(6). Every scholar will forfeit his scholarship who, not being disabled by illness or prevented by any other cause which the Gilchrist Trustees may consider sufficient, fails to complete a residence of three years in Europe, or who is guilty of misconduct or disregard of the orders of the Gilchrist Trustees. If a scholarship be forfeited, the scholar will lose his claim to a free return passage to India.

The Trustees reserve to themselves the power of dealing with all cases unprovided for in the foregoing Rules and Regulations.

The foregoing scheme shall be subject to revision from time to time; the Trustees reserving to themselves the power of altering the conditions of the scholarships, or of altogether withdrawing them if they deem it expedient to do either. But no change will be made in such a manner as to affect the interests of students already appointed to scholarships, or in any case without twelve months' notice.

GILCHRIST INDIAN SCHOLARSHIPS.

Draft Scheme, June 1889.

1. The Ceylon scholarship to be separated from the Indian scholarships.

2. The Indian scholarships to be raised to £200 a year, and to be tenable for three years at any University or any Science or Technical College in Europe (approved by the Trustees in each case), on condition that the scholar shall undertake to go through the course and pass the examinations necessary for obtaining a definite Science degree or diploma (prescribed by the Trustees in each case).

3. The Matriculation Examination of the London University to be no longer the test examination for the Gilchrist Indian scholarships.

4. Three scholarships to be given in rotation to the Universities of Calcutta, Bombay, and Madras.

5. The University to nominate the Gilchrist Scholar from among the more distinguished graduates of the three preceding years. Of these, the graduate to be selected who has done especially well in Science or Mathematics, and is desirous of pursuing—and most likely to benefit by—a further course of scientific study in Europe. Provided that no person holding a Government of India scholarship, tenable in England, shall be eligible.

6. A fourth scholarship to be given every third year on like conditions to the Universities of Punjab and Allahabad jointly, leaving the choice between the candidates whom these two Universities may nominate to a responsible official in India (either the Viceroy himself or his Home Secretary, for example).

7. In arranging a rotation for the three older Universities, it would be well to avoid giving to either of them a Gilchrist scholarship in the same year as a Government scholarship. This can readily be accomplished for the first few years at all events by adopting the following rotation :—

ROTATION OF SCHOLARSHIPS.

Government (as stated by Sir A Macpherson.)					Gilchrist (Proposed).
Allahabad Madras	1889	...	...	...
Punjab Calcutta	1890	...	...	...
Bombay Allahabad	1891	...	...	...	Calcutta.
Madras Punjab	1892	...	...	...	Bombay.
Calcutta Bombay	1893	...	...	...	Madras.
Allahabad Madras	1894	...	...	...	Calcutta.
Punjab Calcutta	1895	...	...	...	Bombay.
Bombay Allahabad	1896	...	...	...	Madras.
Madras Punjab	1897	...	...	...	Calcutta.

The scholarship to the Universities of Punjab and Allahabad would unavoidably be given occasionally in the same year as a Government scholarship to one or other of these Universities. The first scholarship to Punjab and Allahabad, as well as the first to Calcutta, may be given in 1891.

8. Professor James Stuart, M. P., one of the Gilchrist Trustees, proposes personally to see each Gilchrist Scholar from India as soon as possible after he has reported his arrival at the Office of the Trustees, and to advise him upon the course he may propose to pursue, and the University or College to be selected for this purpose, with a view to obtaining the requisite Science degree or diploma. On receiving Professor Stuart's report and advice, the Trustees will prescribe what this course and degree or diploma shall be in each case.

IN accordance with the order of the Government of Bengal, Memorandum No. 2515 of the 8th instant, we have the honour to report that the 10th quarterly inspection of the Kidderpore Dock Works was made on the 26th instant

2. The usual tabular statement and the index plan shewing the work done during the quarter and the total amount executed from the commencement, which have been prepared by the Superintending Engineer of the Dock Works, are already with Government The quarter under review being the rainy season, the progress made was, of course, not as rapid as that during the preceding three months, but a substantial addition was achieved, and the present state of the various works under construction is reported in the following paragraph.

PERMANENT WORKS

Sixty-feet Lock.—The founding of this work was completed, and only 16 per cent. of the masonry now remains to be done. Over 94,287 cubic feet of earthwork was excavated and nearly 277,183 cubic feet of masonry built during the quarter.

Eighty feet Entrance.—The founding of this work is now complete. and the mitre sill has been laid. Over 100,000 cubic feet of masonry was built during the quarter, 21 per cent. of it now remaining to be done.

Double Entrance to Dock No. 1.—In this work 26·6 per cent. of masonry remains to be executed and gates have to be erected.

Tidal Basin.—No progress was made with this work pending completion of the eighty-feet entrance and the graving dock entrance. About 22·5 per cent. of quay wall foundation and 19·4 per cent. of masonry remain to be done.

Graving Dock.—34,571 cubic feet of earthwork was done, and 116,115 cubic feet of masonry, 29·2 per cent. of masonry, and 10·8 per cent. of foundation remain to be done.

Government Graving Dock —This work was commenced during the quarter, 80,000 cubic feet of excavation being done. This work will be completed at the same time as the other works

Dock No. 1. —Over 93 per cent. of the quay wall foundation was completed up to the end of last quarter, 29·2 per cent. of excavation, 15 per cent. of brickwork remaining to be done. During the quarter 444 running feet of foundation and 191,788 cubic feet masonry were executed, and more than 43½ lakhs of excavation removed.

Boat Canal.—During the quarter, the excavation for this work was proceeded with, and 366,679 cubic feet of earthwork was executed, making in all 18·2 per cent. of the total amount. The founding of the Tollygunge Bridge was completed, the old rail arches of the bridge were nearly done. and the staging for the erection of the main girders of the Diamond Harbour Road Bridge was commenced. The brickwork of the lift lock is almost complete, and excavation for the Chetla Hât lock commenced.

Expenditure.—The total expenditure up to the end of the quarter under review is reported to be Rs. 1,52,63,236, of which Rs. 1,26,33,707 represents outlay on works and Rs. 26,29,529 on account of land.

Sanitary.—The health of the workpeople continued satisfactory. The average number of workpeople employed was 6,264, amongst whom there were 6·6 deaths, thus shewing a death-rate of 12·56 per thousand per annum.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Considering the state of the weather, we are of opinion that fair progress has been made with the works, and that, so far as we have been able to judge from a quarterly inspection, the character of the works is satisfactory, and the quality of the work was all that could be desired.

* Means of six days.

Explanation.—Symbols.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the readings during the same period for the last ten years. The humidity of the sky is expressed as percentage, saturation being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number of the direction of the wind, here given, is determined from the returns sent in by the actual observations for the period in question during the last 17 years. The normal means or averages of the rainfall in that district are determined from the returns sent in by the actual observations for the period in question during the last 17 stations in the district sending in returns by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth part of an inch fell.

CALCUTTA the 3rd December 1889.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 29TH OF NOVEMBER 1889.

At the close of the previous week the disturbed conditions which had been brought up to Bengal by the effects of the cyclonic storm which had struck the Orissa coast on the morning of the 20th, still continued to a certain extent. In South Bengal the sky was on the 22nd almost overcast, and weather was dull and gloomy, though but comparatively little rain was falling. Winds were still strongly easterly, and humidity and temperature were decidedly high. Over the northern half of the province, however, weather was becoming rapidly fine and settled, and skies were to a great extent cloudless, while rainfall was practically absent. Northerly and north-westerly winds were also commencing in Behar It was clear, therefore, that at this time the disturbed conditions were being rapidly driven back by the advancing northerly and north-westerly wind current. This action continued steadily at the commencement of the present week, and normal cold-weather conditions have gradually re-established themselves in all districts. For the first day or two of the week, therefore, the sky still remained partially clouded, while humidity was high, but by about the middle of the week the sky became almost absolutely cloudless, and though humidity had decreased, it still remained moderate in amount. The night temperatures, however, have decreased steadily, and in some cases rather rapidly, almost throughout the week, while the day temperatures have also decreased, but not so rapidly. The barometer, on the other hand, has increased very slowly, but almost continuously, throughout the week, and by the end of it pressure had become fairly high. At the end of the week under review, therefore, weather conditions were almost normal, and they had become fine and settled, and of the ordinary cold weather character.

Pressure.—The mean pressure for the week has been lower than usual in all districts The defect has been considerable at most stations, and in many instances it exceeds a tenth of an inch, the usual defect varying from about eight to twelve hundredths of an inch

Temperature—Was at the commencement of the week very decidedly above the normal, but, as above stated, it had gradually fallen and become more normal at its close. Nevertheless the mean temperature of the whole province for the week was above the normal by about two and-a-half degrees, while in such districts as North Bengal and South Behar the excess has been larger than 3°.

The general temperatures recorded in the various districts of the province during the week, and the range from day to night and their variation from their normal values, are, however, best seen in the following table, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures for the week at nine typical stations in the province are compared with their normal values for the same period. From the table it will be seen that while the general day temperatures have been fairly normal, only exceeding it by about a degree, the general night or minimum temperatures have been about three and-a-half degrees in excess:—

Rainfall.—With the exception of one or two moderate showers at Chittagong and Kutubdia, the whole province has been practically rainless throughout the week.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6.—The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazeepore Factory for the year 1888-89, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazeepore Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF NOVEMBER 1889.

THE normal features of the meteorology of Bengal during November are very simple. Northerly winds blow over the whole of Bengal, and these usually extend as a north-easterly wind current over the north and centre of the Bay. These northerly winds are dry, and usually give in Bengal almost cloudless skies; temperature also diminishes steadily during the month, the diminution being strongly marked in the night temperatures, and humidity is low. As a rule, little or no rain falls unless it is brought up by one or other of two kinds of disturbances, which almost reverse the normal weather conditions The first class of disturbances consist of cyclonic storms which are formed in the middle or south of the Bay in front of the retreating south-west monsoon. When they form, as they do occasionally, they usually advance towards the Madras coast, and expend their main force over the south of the peninsula, but sometimes they advance towards the north of the Bay. In the first case, they generally modify the weather over the whole of the Bay; and if the disturbance is a large one, humid winds will again be forced over Bengal, when skies will cloud over and temperature and humidity rapidly increase, and rain may fall, particularly over the southern parts of the province. In the second case, if a large and influential storm which has formed in the Bay advances towards Bengal and should happen to strike the coast, the weather conditions in Bengal will naturally be entirely reversed. Over the area where the storm passes excessively heavy rain will fall, and if the storm be a large one, the whole of Bengal will feel its effects, and general rain may be brought up for a considerable period. The second class of disturbances consist of land-formed barometric depressions, which originate over Upper India and drift sometimes over Bengal, giving clouded skies, increased humidity and temperature, and sometimes light rain These land-formed disturbances seldom occur in November; and if they do occur, they are generally of very little importance.

Except, therefore, for rainfall brought up by the occurrence of storms in the Bay, as a rule, the province is almost rainless in November. Its occurrence and distribution are therefore very capricious, and the normal rainfall of November in Bengal is extremely small. Orissa usually receives a fall of about an inch and-a-fifth, and East Bengal one of about an inch; but in the other districts the fall is only from about a tenth up to a third of an inch Meteorology of the month.—At the end of October the meteorological conditions obtaining in Bengal had become entirely those of the commencement of the cold season or north-east monsoon. Skies were almost cloudless, pressure was fairly high, while temperature was steadily falling, a light northerly wind current had set in generally in Bengal, and rainfall was entirely absent These conditions continued almost unchanged in Bengal up to about the 12th or 13th of November. In the Bay also conditions were fairly normal during this period except for the fact that there was an area of defective pressure in the east of the centre of the Bay, which probably also extended into the south-east of the Bay, and also for the fact that the usual Madras rains had not set in. These conditions continued up to the 12th, when on that day pressure became distinctly low at Diamond Island, and wind directions at that station and in the south of Burma generally began to show indraught towards the centre and south of the Bay These conditions continued on the 13th and became considerably more pronounced, and it was clear that a decided cyclonic storm was being formed somewhere to the west or south-west of the Andamans. The cyclonic storm at first drifted very slowly in a westerly direction, while at the same time it was probably intensifying to a certain extent, and on the first two or three days of its existence it was, so far as could be determined, somewhat to the west of the centre of the Bay, and the centre of the storm was perhaps almost in the latitude of Madras.

The storm which had thus formed immediately caused the weather conditions over the whole Bay to change, and squally weather with rather heavy rain soon became general even over the northern half of the Bay. These conditions apparently rapidly extended from the Bay over the south of Bengal, or perhaps it is more probable even that a small offshoot from the main body of the storm may have travelled northwards over Bengal, and a heavy wave of moisture laden winds commenced to pour in over parts of South-East and South Bengal and Orissa on the 13th, and over the remainder of Bengal on the 14th of the month, the wave travelling slowly from the south to the north of the province This produced an entire reversal of the previous weather conditions; skies became heavily clouded, and in many cases completely overcast, humidity and the night temperatures rose rapidly, the rise in temperature in some cases equalling 10°, and heavy rain commenced to be received. Thus on the 15th general, and in may cases heavy, rain was reported over the whole of Orissa, South-West Bengal, and East Bengal; over the Pubna, Bogra, and Rajshahye districts of North Bengal; over the Sonthal Pergunnahs district in South Behar; and in the Singbhoom, Manbhoom, and Hazaribagh districts of Chutia Nagpur The greater part of South Behar, the whole of North Behar, and a considerable part of North Bengal, however, remained quite rainless up to 16th or 17th, but after that date showers were received even in these districts.

Pressure continued to fall moderately to rapidly along the Madras coast up to the 16th or 17th, while it was falling slowly, or in some cases even rising, elsewhere round the Bay. It was therefore evident that the storm was still drifting very slowly towards the Coromandel coast, and on the latter date the centre was still some distance off the land and to the east or east-north-east of Madras. At this time all the indications appeared to point to the probability that the storm would continue its westerly advance and cross the coast somewhere to the north of Madras, or certainly not further north than Masulipatam or Cocanada; but by the morning of the 18th it had advanced slightly in a northerly direction, and the centre was probably off the coast between Nellore and Masulipatam, and on the morning of the 19th the northerly advance had become much more pronounced, and the centre was almost opposite Vizagapatam. During the 19th the storm continued to move slowly along the coast, and on the morning of the 20th, at about 4 a.m., the centre of the storm struck the coast close to Gopalpore, and probably a little to the north of that station, and between it and Pooree. A decidedly low pressure was registered near the centre of the storm, and at Gopalpore at 2 a.m., when the centre must have been still some little distance off, the very low pressure of 29·478 inches was recorded. Contrary to the usual behaviour of large and decidedly intense storms, the storm in question did not advance far inland, but it seems to have expended its main force over the sea and land area near the coast line, and directly the storm struck the coast, it commenced to break up and disintegrate very rapidly, and by 8 a.m., pressure at Gopalpore had risen to 29·684 inches, and by the following morning it had risen to 29·819 inches, when the storm had almost entirely ceased to exist, though a diffused area of depression was still reported over the northern part of the Bay. There are absolutely no indications that the storm centre penetrated beyond Orissa after striking the coast, and it certainly did not pass into the Central Provinces. It therefore presents rather a remarkable example of the very rapid disintegration of a decidedly powerful storm by the action of the low ranges of hills in Orissa.

The storm was accompanied by the usual cyclonic circulation of winds, and this circulation was clearly noticeable at the coast-stations as the storm advanced up the Bay. The main force of the wind circulation appears to have been in the northern quadrant of the storm, and as the storm advanced along the coast, rather stormy or squally weather was reported, first at Madras, then at Nellore, then at Masulipatam, Cocanada, Vizagapatam, and Bimlipatam; and finally stormy weather set in along the whole of the Orissa and Ganjam coasts, and from Balasore down to Gopalpore in particular very stormy weather was reported. These strong winds also extended to some distance inland, and probably the whole of Orissa and Ganjam experienced heavy winds, if they did not amount to a decided gale. The highest wind velocities reported during the storm were at Gopalpore, near which the centre crossed, and during the greater part of the afternoon and night of the 19th and the early part of the 20th, wind velocity at that station averaged from 60 to 66 miles an hour. The storm also had a very wide influence, and squally, or perhaps rather stormy, weather prevailed over a considerable part of the Bay throughout the existence of the storm. Very heavy rain was received over the area under the influence of the storm, and Pooree, in the twenty-four hours from 8 a.m. of the 19th to the same time of the 20th, recorded 10·84 inches of rain, Gopalpore received 6·63 inches, False Point 6·04 inches, Cuttack 5·67 inches, Kendrapara 5·50 inches, etc. The wave of moist winds brought up by the storm advanced over the whole of South-West Bengal and East Bengal and over the southern parts of Chutia Nagpur, but apparently the inrush of winds did not penetrate to any extent into Behar or North Bengal. Thus the heavy rainfall brought up by the storm only extended to Orissa and South-West and East Bengal and parts of Chutia Nagpur, and only isolated showers were brought to the other districts by this cause. It has, however, been previously mentioned that a kind of small offshoot from the storm in the Bay, or an advance of moist winds connected with the outlying parts of the storm, had drifted towards Bengal about the 13th of the month and from the effects of this light to moderate rainfall had been fairly general in practically all districts of the province. Thus from the two causes combined, general rainfall was recorded in all districts, the amounts varying from an average of about ten inches in Orissa down to about a third of an inch in North Behar.

Though the storm practically ceased to exist after the 20th, the disturbed conditions brought by it continued for some days, and even up to the 23rd in South Bengal the sky was almost overcast, and weather was dull and gloomy, though but comparatively little rain was falling. Winds were still strongly easterly, and humidity and temperature were decidedly high. Over the northern half of the province, however, weather was on this date becoming rapidly fine and settled, and skies were to a great extent cloudless, while rainfall was practically absent. Northerly and north-westerly winds were also commencing in Behar. It was clear, therefore, that at this time the disturbed conditions were being rapidly driven back by the advancing northerly and north-westerly wind current. This action continued steadily, and normal cold weather conditions gradually re-established themselves in all districts. The sky still remained partially clouded, while humidity was high up to about the 25th and 26th; but by about the 27th or 28th, the sky became almost absolutely cloudless, and though humidity then decreased, it still remained moderate in amount. The night temperatures also then decreased steadily, and in some cases rather rapidly, while the day temperatures also decreased, but not so rapidly. The barometer, on the other hand, increased very slowly, and almost continuously, up to the 29th, when it again commenced to fall slowly, but at the end of the month pressure was still fairly high. At the close of November, therefore, weather conditions had again become almost normal, and they were fine and settled and of the ordinary cold weather character.

Pressure.—The principal variations of pressure which occurred during the month were those connected with the development and advance of the cyclonic storm from the Bay, when pressure fell very largely. The storm has indeed had a marked effect in the mean pressure for the month, and in all districts pressure has been below the normal; the defects ranging from about six to eight hundredths of an inch in Orissa, and in the south-western districts generally to about three to five hundredths of an inch in East and North Bengal. The average defect of the mean pressure for the month for the whole of Bengal has equalled about 0·06 inch, while the defect in Assam has been almost the same amount

Temperature.—The temperature variations during the month form an excellent illustration of the fact that in the cold weather months, when conditions become disturbed in Bengal, and when skies cloud over, temperatures, and particularly the night temperatures, increase rather largely. Thus during the first week of the month, when weather conditions were of the normal north-east monsoon character, the mean temperature only varied from the normal by an excess of about six or seventh-tenths of a degree. Temperature remained fairly low and without much variation from the normal up to about the 15th, when with the inrush of moist winds the temperature distribution changed rapidly. At many stations with the clouding up of the sky the night temperatures rose rapidly, and at Cuttack, Bankoora, Burdwan, Chupra, &c., the rise in twenty-four hours equalled from eight to ten degrees. The day temperatures, however, changed little, and in some cases even fell. Excessive night temperatures continued to be recorded up till about the 23rd of the month, and from the 15th to the 23rd the average minimum temperatures at many stations were from six to ten degrees above the normal. After the 23rd, however, both day and night temperatures commenced steadily to fall, though the mean temperature of the province for the last week was still about two and-a-half degrees above the normal. For the whole month, therefore, the mean temperature for the province has been in excess of the normal by nearly two degrees, while in Assam the excess has equalled no less than 3·2°.

The general variation of the day and night temperatures during the month is, however, best seen in the following table, where the weekly variations of the average maximum, minimum, and mean temperatures from the normal are given at nine typical stations in different districts of the province. The extremely large variations of the night temperatures above referred to are here clearly indicated:—

Rainfall.—As above stated, general rainfall has been brought up to a large part of the province, and at many stations the rainfall extended over a period of about ten days In the districts most largely affected by the storm, very heavy rain has been recorded, and in Orissa, for example, an average fall of no less than 9·85 inches occurred. The falls were next in order of heaviness in South-West Bengal, where they averaged 4·72 inches. In East Bengal the falls equalled 3·48 inches, and in Chutia Nagpur and North Bengal they were between one and-a-half and one inch. In South Behar an average fall of about three-quarters of an inch is recorded, while in North Behar the general fall has only been a third of an inch. It has been previously stated that the normal rainfall for November is very small, so that the amounts received this year have been excessive, and they vary from being about fifteen times as large as the usual fall in South-West Bengal to about four times the usual fall in Behar, East Bengal, and Chutia Nagpur

The following table gives in a condensed form the rainfall information for each of the seven large meteorological districts of Bengal for the present year up to the close of November. The numbers there given are the actual average rainfalls in each month in each district, expressed as a percentage of the normal fall for the period, and the last column gives also the total rainfall up to the end of November, expressed as a percentage of the normal amount :—

Notwithstanding the general excessive falls which have been recorded in most districts there are a few small districts where falls smaller than the normal have been received. This is the case in the following districts :—Rungpore, Purneah, North and South Bhagalpur, Durbhunga, and Monghyr ; while falls of about the normal amount were received in Chittagong, Noakhally, Dinagpore, Mozufferpore, Gya, and Patna.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the month of November 1889 :—

* Means for six days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last

The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional station for the period in question during the past stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 6th of December 1889.

CALCUTTA, the 10*th December* 1889.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 6TH DECEMBER 1889.

THE meteorological conditions during the present week call for few remarks. During the previous week the disturbed conditions, which had been brought up by the cyclonic storm which struck the Orissa coast on the morning of the 20th of November, had entirely passed away, and normal north-east monsoon conditions obtained from about the 26th or 27th of November. The present week has been marked by the continuance of these north-east monsoon or cold weather conditions in a fairly pronounced degree, and there has been no change of any importance to notice except that there has been an almost continuous reduction of temperature during the week; the daily falls in the mean temperature at many stations, particularly in the south of the province, on certainly four days out of the seven averaging from one to two degrees, though, on the other hand, about the middle of the week on one or two days temperature distinctly rose. Pressure increased rapidly during the middle of the week from the Monday to the Wednesday, but on the other days slight falls were reported. A steady north-westerly wind current has prevailed at the majority of stations almost throughout the week, while skies have been almost cloudless. Humidity has been generally moderate in amount, and there has been absolutely no rain at any station.

Pressure—Fell slowly at many stations on the 30th of November and 1st of December, but a rather rapid rise then set in which lasted for three days, during which an increase of about a tenth of an inch took place. On the 5th and 6th, however, pressure again fell by small amounts. The mean pressure for the week has therefore continued distinctly below the normal, and the defects generally have varied from about six to nine hundredths of an inch. These defects are smallest usually in Orissa, where they average about five hundredths of an inch, while in Behar at some stations, such as Durbhunga and Bankipore, the defect is larger than a tenth of an inch.

Temperature—Continued to fall rather rapidly during the first three days of the week, particularly over the southern half of the province, the fall averaging at some stations in South Bengal and Orissa about 2° daily. On the 3rd and 4th of December the variations of temperature were generally small, but on the 5th there was a distinct increase in the mean temperature, in some cases equalling 2°. On the 6th, or the last day of the week, however, temperature had again commenced to fall rather rapidly, and again at some stations the fall in the mean temperature equalled about 2°. For the whole week, therefore, the mean temperature of the province was only about half a degree in excess of the normal, instead of from two to three degrees as in the previous week. Indeed, during the present week in Orissa and South-West Bengal the mean temperature has been about half a degree below the normal, though, on the other hand, in North Bengal it has been 1·6° above the normal.

The general temperatures recorded in the various districts of the province, and the range from day to night, and their variation from their normal values, are, however, best seen in the following table, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures for the week at nine typical stations in the province are compared with their normal values for the same period. It will be seen that the day temperatures are still rather above the normal, while the night or minimum temperatures are about normal in amount:—

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 1·6 lower; and finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

General remarks on the fluctuation of principal staples carried over the East Indian Railway during month ended 26th October 1889.

INCREASES.

Cotton.—The increase was chiefly in despatches from Cawnpore and stations above to Howrah and Bombay, and was due to earlier crops than in 1888.

Piece-goods.—This increase occurred principally in despatches from Howrah, owing to good demand on account of the native festivals.

Indigo.—Due to the indigo season having fallen earlier in 1889 than in 1888. The increase was chiefly in despatches from stations in the North-West Provinces.

Brass and Brassware; Copper and Copperware.—The increase under these heads was almost entirely in despatches of the unmanufactured articles from Howrah, and of utensils from Mirzapur.

Oil.—The improvement was in despatches of kerosine-oil from Howrah.

Potatoes.—This was in receipts from the Assam-Behar State Railway of Darjeeling seed potatoes, in despatches from Patna and from Umballa Cantonment to Howrah, Allahabad, Cawnpore, and other stations.

Ghee.—There was a decrease in the weight carried attended with an increase in earnings owing to the Calcutta ghee supply having been drawn from the North-West Provinces more largely than during the corresponding period of 1888.

Grain and Pulses; Other Rain and Spring Crops.—There was a decrease in the weight carried, but an increase in earnings, due to grain and dall having been in good demand at Calcutta and being procured from the North-Western Railway viâ Ghaziabad; also from Shikohabad, Cawnpore, and other long-distance stations. In the case of "Other Rain and Spring Crops," the increased earnings were due principally to long-distance despatches from Delhi and the Rewari-Ferozepore section of the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway. There was a decrease in the short-distance traffic generally.

Railway material, Foreign.—The increase was principally in consignments of permanent-way material from Howrah to Umballa for the Delhi-Umballa-Kalka Railway.

Salt.—The increase in weight carried was principally in salt crossing this system at Cawnpore from the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway to the Oudh and Rohilkhund Railway, and that in earnings in salt received viâ Agra, Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway for our own stations.

Stone.—The increase was principally in road metal from Asansol and Pakur for the Calcutta and other municipalities.

DECREASES.

Coal and coke.—In the upwards traffic, there was an increase in weight carried, but the traffic being over shorter distances than in 1888, the earnings fell off. The falling off in downwards traffic was principally in despatches to Sheoraphuli, Bhadreswar Ghât, and to the Eastern Bengal State Railway viâ Naihati.

Jute, raw.—The decrease was principally in consignments from the Assam-Behar State Railway viâ Sahebgunge: the jute crop in the Purneah district was late, and the outturn less than in 1888, owing to floods.

Gunny.—The decrease is in continuation of that reported for September 1889, and is in consequence of the poor traffic being carried in wheat and seeds.

Wheat.—Due to want of demand for Indian wheat in the Home market, and to poor supplies.

Rice (husked and unhusked).—Due to there having been an exceptional demand for rice at up-country stations last year.

Government stores.—Ordnance stores were despatched last year in considerable quantities to Peshawur, Quetta, and other stations.

Iron.—The decrease was due to a heavy falling off in despatches of sugar mills from Delhi and Delhi-Shahdara, of old shot and shell from Agra to Delhi, and of machinery from the Port Commissioners' Tramway to our stations.

Saltpetre.—This was principally in consignments from the Tirhoot State and Bengal and North-Western Railways.

Seeds.—The decrease was chiefly in the despatches of linseed and mustard seed to Howrah, owing to poor stocks.

Sugar and jaggree.—The decrease was due principally to a falling off in the cross traffic from the Oudh and Rohilkund Railway viâ Aligarh.

CONDITIONS ON WHICH THIS PERMIT HAS BEEN ISSUED, AND ON WHICH PAYMENT HAS BEEN ACCEPTED.

1. No produce of any kind, except that named in this permit, shall be cut, damaged or removed, and this permit is valid only for the forest or block, period of time, and number or quantity of the particular produce named in it, and it holds good for one trip only into and from the forests of the boat or boats for which it is issued: if this condition is violated, this permit becomes null and void.

2. It shall always be kept ready for inspection in the hands of the person or persons exercising the permission it grants.

3. The holder shall always produce it when called upon to do so by any Forest or Police Officer.

4. He shall return it to the office of issue or to a corresponding office of the same Forest Division before the expiry of the term for which it is issued, and shall at the same time bring the boat or boats for which it was issued for the purpose of the forest produce laden on the said boat or boats being examined and the measurements being checked. In case of logs slung on to boats, they must be slung in such a manner as will allow of their being examined and measured, i.e. they must not be slung more than two deep under water.

5. On returning it, the certificate attached will be filled in and made over to the holder as an acknowledgment that he has paid the full amount due on the timber or produce removed under this permit.

6. The fact of holding this permit without the certificate attached having been filled in and signed by a Forest Ranger or Forester does not give the holder permission to proceed with any timber or forest produce past any authorized forest or revenue station; should he do so without holding the certificate filled in and signed by a Forest Ranger or Forester, this permit becomes null and void, and in that case he renders himself liable to the punishments prescribed by the sections applicable under the Forest Act for removing timber and produce without permission, which may extend to imprisonment for six months, or to a fine of Rs. 500 or both, in addition to the confiscation of all timber or forest produce, removed and of all tools, boats, carts, and cattle used in removing it.

This is to certify that I have fully explained the above conditions to the holder of this permit, in acknowledgment of which fact we ascribe our signatures at the time of its issue, both on this permit and on its counterfoil.

1. No liquor shop should ordinarily be in a bazar or at the entrance to a bazar, nor near a bathing ghât or place of public resort, school, hospital, place of worship, factory, the interior of a village, the side of a road leading to a bathing ghât or a place of water-supply. In some districts the side of a main road or a village inhabited by aborigines of known drinking habits should also be avoided. A liquor shop should not be inaccessible to persons requiring liquor, but it should not be in such a situation as to obtrude itself on the attention of the public, or to render persons passing by subject to annoyance from persons drinking. Local opinion as to the sites of liquor shops should be consulted as far as possible.

Vide sections XIII and XIV of the Board's Excise Administration Reports for 1885-86 and 1888-89 respectively, and Board's No. 666B, dated 2nd June 1886, and Circular order No. 10 of January 1889.

2. The district officer should notify to Municipal Commissioners the sites selected for liquor shops within municipal limits, and should the Commissioners object to any of them, he should carefully consider their objections, and if he does not agree with them, should refer the matter to the Commissioner of Excise for decision, pending which he should not allow any shop to be opened on a site objected to.

Vide Government order No. 2880T—V, dated 18th October 1884.

3. When it is proposed to open a new shop for the sale of any excisable article, the district officer should refer to the Magistrate, and where there is a cantonment, to the Officer Commanding the station, with a view to ascertain whether there is any objection to the site selected. No such enquiry is needed as to the sites of old shops, unless past experience should have suggested doubts as to the advisability of renewing a license. After a license has been sold, the Magistrate should again be consulted as to the character of the licensee. If a license is renewed to a previous licensee, no enquiry is ordinarily necessary. It is, however, open to the Magistrate to bring to notice any case in which the holder of a license appears to him to be unsuitable. The Magistrate will exercise this interference with due caution, reporting only such cases as may have been the subject of magisterial enquiry, or have fallen under his own personal knowledge, or that of his subordinate responsible police officers. It is not desirable that objections should be raised to the holder of a license merely on the report of a subordinate police officer, and without full enquiry by the District Superintendent of Police or his Assistant.

Vide clauses 7 and 9, section II, pages 70 and 71 of the Excise Manual.

4. A list of the sites selected for the shops to be licensed during the ensuing official year should be submitted to the Commissioner of Excise, on or before such date as he may fix for his approval. After the list has received his approval, it will not be competent to the Police authorities, save in special and exceptional cases, to object to the sites. After the annual settlement proposals are sanctioned by the Commissioner, no change of site will be made without his sanction.

Vide clauses 7 and 9, section II, pages 70 and 71 of the Excise Manual.

5. The Collector or other officer holding the sale will inform the bidders that what is sold at auction is a right to open a shop at a fixed site or at some locality in its immediate vicinity, being within a certain distance from it, to be mentioned at the time of auction, as the maximum distance from such site within which it will be permitted to open a shop.

Vide clause 12, section III, page 78 of the Excise Manual

6. The Collector or other officer holding the sale should be careful to avoid vagueness of description of locality. He should expressly specify that the auction-purchaser will be bound within a measured distance from some fixed spot or within a particular tract, the boundaries of which should be so described as to leave no possible room for misapprehension.

Vide clause 13, section III, page 78 of the Excise Manual.

7. In Calcutta the following special rules apply:—

Vide clause 10, section II, page 71 of the Excise Manual.

I.—A certificate from the Commissioner of Police, as prescribed by section 36, Act IV (B.C.) of 1866, is required before a license can be finally granted and issued by the Excise Superintendent.

II.—Under the auction system the auction-purchaser should apply to the Commissioner of Police for the certificate required after the auction has been held.

III.—Under the fixed license-fee system, the application to open a shop or hotel should be made in the first instance to the Excise Superintendent, who, if he approves of the application, will endorse a certificate to that effect thereon, and the applicant shall then apply to the Commissioner of Police for the grant of the certificate required by section 36, Act IV (B.C.) of 1866.

IV.—The Excise Superintendent is the lawful authority under the control of the Board to determine the site of each shop which is to be licensed. By the word 'site' is meant the spot on which a shop stands, or is to be established. Under the orders of Government the Excise Superintendent is required to consult the Commissioner of Police to ascertain if there is any objection to any new site proposed for a shop. No new site shall be let by auction or otherwise till it is approved by both the Commissioner of Police and the Excise Superintendent, subject to a reference to the Commissioner of Excise in case of disagreement. If the Commissioner of Excise differs in opinion with the Commissioner of Police, the question shall be referred for the orders of the Board of Revenue.

V.—No shop shall be opened on a new site unless a notification shall have been affixed, at least 15 days before the grant of the license, at the police-station and in some conspicuous place on or near the proposed site. The notification shall state, for the information of the public, that it is proposed to open a shop (specifying the kind of shop) on the site in question; and the Superintendent shall carefully consider all objections urged by the inhabitants against the opening of such shop in communication with the Commissioner of Police, and in the event of a difference of opinion shall refer the matter for the decision of the Board of Revenue.

VI.—The Commissioner of Police shall forward to the Excise Commissioner half-yearly a list of sites on which it is considered objectionable that shops should be retained.

VII.—No license shall be renewed for any shop on a site included in the said list, except under the special authority of the Board of Revenue.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L. P.

The following are the conditions of sale :—

1.—The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.

6.—The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazeepore Factory for the year 1888-89, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazeepore Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—(FAMINE).

The 17th December 1889.—The following is published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

EFFECTS OF THE RECENT RAINFALL AND STORM IN THE DISTRICTS OF THE ORISSA DIVISION.

No. 2205R, dated Cuttack, the 9th December 1889.

From—J. A. HOPKINS, Esq., Officiating Commissioner of the Orissa Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

WITH reference to your Famine Circular No. 35 Fam., dated the 25th ultimo, I have the honour to state that, before the receipt of the orders quoted, I had asked the Collectors of this Division to submit full and detailed report on the character of the recent rainfall and storm, the nature of the damage done, if any had been done, and what effect the fall would have on the general condition of the people during the year. Replies from the district officers to that call have now been received, and I beg to submit the following summary of their reports for the information of Government.

2. I beg to append a statement showing the rainfall from the 13th to the 20th November at all the principal stations in the districts of this Division. It will be seen that the fall was heaviest in Pooree.

CUTTACK.

3. The fall in Cuttack was showery from the 14th to the 16th, and continuous from the 17th to the 20th November. It was general, but heaviest in Kendrapara sub-division. As regards the damage to crops, the Collector, writing on the 26th November, reported that of the rabi crops the biri, mung, and zaba had suffered considerable damage, 10 to 12 annas being lost, while kulthi had somewhat benefitted. Of these crops, however, there was very little in the district. As to paddy, the Collector estimated the loss of laghu sarad at about 4 annas, but in regard to guru sarad, which was just coming into ear, the loss, it was apprehended, would be from 6 to 8 annas. Mr. Maguire added in conclusion :—

"It is my opinion that the effect of this late storm and rain will be to reduce what would have been an exceptionally good year to about the level of an average year. I should before this have estimated the outturn of the saradh crop at 19 to 20 annas : now I should estimate it at about 15."

4. In the last report of weather and crops, dated the 30th ultimo, the Collector estimates the damage to the laghu sarad at 2 annas, to the guru sarad at 4 annas, and to the rabi crop at 8 annas.

In my opinion the Collector has overestimated the damage, for a large portion of the biri and mung was ripening: it had flowered. The rabi also, which had flowered, could not have been seriously damaged. The damage to the rice crop may be accepted as 2 annas. The rabi as 5 or 6 annas.

POOREE.

5. The rainfall on the 14th and 15th was heavier, 3·65 inches having been recorded at Pooree. On the 16th the weather cleared up, but on the 17th the sky again became overcast, and from the 17th to the 20th November there was a continuous downpour accompanied by strong gusts of wind from the north. The Collector gives the following account of the storm and rains, and their effect on the condition of the people:—

"From the telegrams sent from the Meteorological Department, it appears that a small cyclone was formed in the centre of the Bay opposite the Coromandel coast on or about 13th November. It was very diffused at first, but as it approached the coast it concentrated, and at last burst on the shore with great fury. The centre of the cyclone passed Gopalpur in the Ganjam district at 4 A.M. of the 20th instant. The velocity of the wind, as might be expected, was greater in the Chilka tracts than at Pooree, greater at Pooree than at Khorda, and greater on the seashore than in inland. The waves of the sea rose 15 to 20 feet high, and at times the roar was deafening. The wind forced the sea water into an old channel called Banki Mohan in the town. The water of the Chilka also rose very high and submerged the riparian fields. In some places in Bajrakote the people had to quit their houses, leaving everything behind. In one village called Paikerpur in pergunnah Bajrakote all the inhabitants fled to Porole in the Ganjam district. The private embankments in Malud, Bajrakote and Paricood have been partially washed away and the fields submerged. Here the storm seems to have been heaviest.

"As soon as the storm abated, I paid a visit to the town and took steps to alleviate the sufferings of the inhabitants as far as possible. All the pits and the low lands were covered with water, and in my presence I had some temporary drains cut to pass out the surplus water. I also directed to cut a public embankment in the village of Bhingara to drain off the waters from the fields, reporting my action to the Executive Engineer. Owing to interruption of all communication for two days, no mofussil carts which supply the town with rice came, and the grain merchants were loath to open their stores. On the 19th rice was procurable with much difficulty, but the unwillingness of the merchants to open their stores was at last overcome, and the price of rice became almost normal two or three days after the storm." The injury to trees has not been inconsiderable, but the damage done to roofs and mud walls of houses has not been serious. Some lives were lost in the Chilka tracts and in the Khorda sub-division, but the loss is inconsiderable. The loss of cattle on the Chilka tracts and on the seashore generally has been heavy. As regards damage to crops, Mr Bose estimated the loss at about one anna both in the laghu and guru sarad, but later reports estimate it at 2 annas on the average except in the South Chilka tracts, where it is much heavier. Rabi crops have suffered heavily. I have asked the Collector to submit a full and detailed report of the damage done to the crops in the Chilka tracts It is premature to estimate the damage of crops which were almost ripe. It is clear that the loss has not been serious except in the South Chilka tracts.

BALASORE.

6. The Collector says that there seems to have been two distinct storms—one beginning at Chandbally on the 13th and not reaching Balasore till the 14th, and the other of the 18th, 19th and 20th. The first storm was accompanied by little or no wind in the Sudder sub-division, though it blew hard in Bhudruck. The second came with more wind in the Sudder, and with very strong wind at Bhudruck and Chandbally, especially about midnight of the 19th—20th November. The rainfall was general throughout the whole district, though heaviest in the south-east. As regards the damage done to the paddy crop, the Collector estimates it at $\frac{4}{16}$ths round Chandbally, $\frac{3}{4}$ths in the rest of the Bhudruck sub-division, and $\frac{1}{16}$th in the Sudder sub-division. In Bhudruck and Chandbally the loss merely reduces a bumper crop to somewhat below an average crop. In the Sudder it makes a poor crop still poorer. Mr. Cornish concludes his report with the following remarks:—"Its effects are, however, most apparent in the low lands which had hitherto suffered least from the excessive rainfall of the year, and I do not think that it seriously increases our anxieties regarding the high land tracts of Sora and Balasore thannahs, where the crops are scantiest and scarcity most imminent. On the contrary, it has benefitted them by filling the tanks." The rabi crop (such as it is) has no doubt suffered, but that is not a very serious matter in this district.

It appears that some damage has been done throughout the Division, but I am not inclined to attach much importance to the estimates of loss, for a large portion of the rice crop was ready for the sickle: some had been gathered: such crops could not have been materially damaged: whilst the unripe paddy, of which the grain was in the course of development, would be improved rather than damaged. The paddy in flower was of course damaged, but of this there could not have been much. On the subject of the rabi crops, the chief damage sustained was in the oilseeds: mustard had been just sowed, and seed can be sowed again. Rasi or teel had to a great extent flowered and passed beyond the power of damage. Kulthi was improved: it is, however, a question to what extent pulses such as biri, mung and arhar have been damaged. It is said that the two first have been damaged in this way, and the almost ripe crops have been thrashed out by the rain, whilst the flowering crops have lost their productiveness; no reports have been received as to the intermediate stage. These crops are not extensively grown. Wheat and gram have not been damaged, but arhar has been greatly damaged by the wind and rain combined.

THE following report is published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

P. NOLAN,

The 17th December 1889. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

METEOROLOGICAL SUMMARY OF THE MONSOON PERIOD OF 1889.

THE following statement is intended to give a very brief history of the more important features which have characterised the south-west monsoon period and the preceding months of 1889 in Bengal.

The weather conditions of the first-half of January call for practically no comment, as they were of normal north-east monsoon character. At this time a small disturbance travelled along the line of the hills in a south-easterly direction, giving fairly general rain to Behar, North Bengal, and parts of East Bengal A second feeble depression, which advanced from Central India, again gave rain to these districts and to Chutia Nagpur on the 24th, but the most important rainfall in January was brought by the passage of a decided barometric depression from Northern India on the 30th and 31st of the month, which gave heavy rain to Behar and North Bengal, and moderate rain to all other districts except Orissa. Rainfall was therefore largely above the normal in North Bengal and Behar, moderately above it in South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur, and slightly below it in East Bengal, while Orissa was almost rainless, and the amount received was not more than about a sixth of the ordinary fall. During the month also, notwithstanding the occurrence of the four depressions, the mean pressure was distinctly above the normal, the excess averaging about 0·017 inch. The temperature variations during this month were considerable, and an average excess of more than two degrees above the normal was registered. Cloud proportion and humidity were also decidedly above the normal for the greater part of January.

During the second and third weeks of February two important barometric depressions passed over Bengal, and again towards the end of the month, weather became unsettled in consequence of a depression which existed in Sind and Rajputana, but which did not pass over Bengal. With these exceptions conditions were of the usual cold-weather type in February. Considerable quantities of rain fell generally over the province during these periods of disturbance and the rainfall of February was largely above the normal in Behar and North Bengal, and moderately above it in South-West Bengal, Chutia Nagpur, and Orissa, while, on the other hand it was distinctly below it in East Bengal. Pressure continued in excess of the normal also in February, the mean excess being 0·03 inch. The variations of temperature were again large, and the mean of the whole month for the province was about one degree in excess of the normal. Humidity was also rather higher than usual, but cloud proportion was below the normal except in Behar.

During March weather was unusually fine and settled, and there were only two very brief periods of disturbance, one at the commencement, and the other on the 21st and 22nd, which gave rise to a few unimportant local storms or nor'-westers. The rainfall for March was consequently in defect in all districts, and was, as a general rule, not more than about a fifth of the usual amount. Both pressure and temperature, however, continued to be in excess, and the barometer stood about a twentieth of an inch higher than usual, while temperature was nearly two degrees in excess. In March also the normal rapid increase in temperature was even more pronounced than usual, and a mean daily temperature of nearly 80° was registered for the whole province, which was between eleven and twelve degrees higher than the mean temperature for February.

In April hot weather conditions of somewhat unusual severity continued for the greater part of the month, and there were only four extremely brief periods of disturbance, during which a few local storms with rain occurred, and between these periods high pressure and high temperature obtained in all districts, particularly towards the end of the month. Very few of these local storms were of any marked intensity, and most of them were quite unimportant. One, however, which occurred on April 15th in the Rajshahye district, appears to have been of almost tornado violence. The excess pressure in this month was not so large as in previous months, and equalled only about two hundredths of an inch. Temperature, as stated above, was excessive, and the mean for the whole month was from two to two and-a-half degrees above the normal in almost all districts. The rainfall was again very largely in defect in all districts except Chutia Nagpur, which received a little more than the usual fall.

In May again the periods of disturbed conditions during which local storms occurred were few. In East Bengal some nor'-westers with rain occurred in the first few days of the month, but these did not extend to other districts. A more general period of disturbance occurred in the middle of the month, when rain became fairly well distributed, but the most important series of disturbances took place between the 20th and 26th, when rain showers were numerous over the whole province. Rainfall was therefore very largely in defect of the normal in all districts, and indeed the general rainfall of the whole province scarcely exceeded half the normal fall. Pressure during this month had become almost normal for the first time during the year, though there was still a slight general excess of about a hundredth of an inch. Temperature was again excessive, and at certain times was very largely above the normal, and for the whole month the average mean temperature of the province was between three and four degrees in excess of the normal.

Up, therefore, to the end of May the general conditions in the province had been characterised by high pressure and decidedly high temperature, and while during January and February rainfall had been decidedly abundant, during March, April, and May, the falls were largely in defect of the normal. In the Bay of Bengal weather conditions had continued fairly normal throughout the first four months of the year, and in the south of the Bay no strong advance of south-west monsoon winds had been noticed, until about the 19th of May, when, from that date up to the 23rd, rather strong winds prevailed at the Ceylon stations. The advance certainly progressed as far as the centre of the Bay, and on the 22nd a cyclonic whirl commenced to form near the Andaman Islands. The small whirl, however, did not develop into a storm, but passed over the Gulf of Martaban into Burma, where it initiated the rainy season. From the 23rd to nearly the end of May the monsoon winds blowing in the south of the Bay were only of moderate force, but on the 31st a second and very much stronger advance of monsoon winds made itself felt at the Ceylon stations, and this continued for the first week of June, when the current must have advanced well into the north of the Bay. In front of this current about June 8th, a feeble cyclonic whirl, or perhaps two separate whirls, commenced to form off the Orissa and Ganjam coasts. One small centre reached the land on the 10th, and a second on the 11th, and these brought up with them a general wave of moisture-laden winds, which caused the rainfall to spread over the whole province. This advance may therefore be said to have caused the rains to commence in Bengal, and general rainfall was received in Orissa and South-West Bengal from about the 10th of June, and in North and South Behar and Chutia Nagpur from about the 11th As usual also the general rainfall in East and North Bengal commenced earlier than in the other districts, and in these cases the rainfall was general from the 4th. The rains may therefore be said to have broken generally in Bengal a few days (perhaps three to five days) earlier than the usual date of commencement of the south-west monsoon rains.

After the establishment of the monsoon current in Bengal, which was, as above stated, brought about by the advance of a feeble depression, two other depressions formed in the Bay, the first of which moved from the north-east of the Bay into Central Bengal and afterwards towards Central India, while the second was formed off the Orissa coast and passed between False Point and Balasore on the night of the 26th, after which it passed away in a north-westerly direction. Both these depressions gave heavy rain which spread over a rather wide area, and this, in addition to the comparatively early setting in of the rains, caused the general rainfall for June to be about a third larger than the normal fall, while in North Behar generally the fall was no less than 62 per cent. in excess of the usual amount. The actually largest excess falls were received in the Chumparun district, where the excess amounted to about nine and-a-half inches of rain, and the actual fall was 213 per cent. of the normal amount. Next to this stood the Mozufferpore district, where seven inches of rain more than usual fell, and where the rainfall expressed as a percentage of the normal equalled 199. The third district which received a very large excess was the Patna district, where nearly six inches more rain than usual fell, and where the actual fall equalled a percentage of 195. But while these exceptionally heavy falls were being received in these districts, Balasore, Chittagong and Maldah districts showed defects equal to about 25 per cent. of the normal rainfall.

The variations of the other meteorological elements during June were comparatively small. Pressure was again slightly above the normal, the excess averaging about two hundredths of an inch. Temperature also was slightly in excess of the normal in Orissa, South-West and East Bengal, North Behar and Chutia Nagpur by amounts of about half to one degree; but, on the other hand, North Bengal and South Behar were in defect by an almost equal amount.

In July the south-west monsoon current considered as a rain-bearing current was a little weaker than usual, and most districts received rainfalls below the normal. The rainfall was, however, fairly well distributed throughout the month, except for some days from about the 11th to the 15th or 16th, during which period a small cyclonic storm was generating in the Bay, and the indraught towards which prevented the rain-bearing current from flowing over the province.

This small cyclonic storm which existed from the 12th of July to the 21st was probably first generated in a feeble form off the east coast of the Bay, but it did not exist as a definite storm till it appeared off the Orissa coast on the 12th. It remained almost stationary up till the 18th, intensifying slowly only; it then advanced along the coast, the centre passing between Saugor Island and Balasore on the morning on the 20th, and it afterwards advanced in a north-westerly direction, and passed into Behar and over part of the North-Western Provinces before it filled up. The storm was accompanied by very bad weather in the northern part of the Bay, and during its inland advance it gave rise to exceedingly heavy rain, particularly in North Behar and North Bengal. The rainfall for this month was therefore again about a third in excess of the normal in North Behar, while in North Bengal the excess equalled about a fifth of the normal fall, but in all other districts the falls were somewhat in defect of the normal. The district of Chumparun again received exceptionally heavy rain, the fall averaging more than twenty inches, or eight inches in excess of the normal, and the actual fall expressed as a percentage equalled 166. The Mozufferpore and Patna districts, which in June also received such heavy falls, in July only received moderate amounts, Mozufferpore showing a slight excess and Patna a defect. But in July also the Cooch Behar, Purneah and Julpigoree districts received exceptionally heavy rainfall. On the other hand, very defective falls were registered in the Midnapore, Lohardugga, and Singbhoom districts. The variations of pressure during July were dependent on the formation of the small storm just described. Previous to its formation pressure was considerably in excess of the normal, but during its existence and movement over the land it became in defect, and as during the storm pressures of less than 29·3 inches were recorded, the defects were large. After the filling up and disappearance of the storm, pressure again became in excess of normal. These variations to a great extent compensated for each other, and the mean pressure for the month was only two or three hundredths of an inch in excess of the normal. Temperature was lower than usual by moderate amounts until about the middle of the month, when it became almost equally in excess and remained so until its close, so that the mean temperature varied only by small amounts from the normal, slight excess temperatures of less than one degree being generally reported.

In August the south-west monsoon current was distinctly weaker than the normal strength, and at all the meteorological stations round the Bengal and Orissa coasts wind velocities were rather largely in defect. The weakness of the current was also shown by the fact that the average rainfall over the whole province only equalled about 90 per cent. of the normal, while in South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur the falls only equalled about three-fourths of the usual amounts. August was comparatively free from the barometric depressions which usually occur in the rainy season, and only two shallow and unimportant whirls were formed, the first lasting from the 4th to the 10th, and the second from the 16th to the 20th, the first of which passed through Orissa into the Central Provinces, and the second passed from the north-west angle of the Bay through South Behar into the North Western Provinces. For the remainder of the month ordinary south-west monsoon conditions obtained. Conditions were therefore very favourable for rainfall in Orissa, and this district received a fall of about a fifth in excess of the normal. South Behar and East Bengal also received heavy falls about equal to the normal, but in all other districts the falls were defective. The principal districts which received decidedly excessive falls were Pooree, where an excess of seven inches was registered, and also part of the Bhagulpur district and the Shahabad and Patna districts, where the excess falls amounted to from two to four inches of rain, or to about a quarter of the normal fall. The Chumparun district, on the other hand, which had received excessive falls during June and July, was in defect by five inches of rain in August. The other districts, where largely defective falls were registered, were Darjeeling and Tipperah, where the defects equalled nine inches of rain, Maldah eight inches, Hooghly, Burdwan, and Rajshahye six inches, and Bankoora, Beerbhoom, Moorshedabad and Manbhoom, where the defects were five inches. A curious defect of about five inches also occurred over the southern part of the Bhagulpore district, while, as above stated, the northern part of the same district received an excess fall.

In August almost for the first month during the year pressure became slightly in defect of the normal, the defect ranging from about two to four hundredths of an inch. During August also a trough of slightly low pressure which extended from the north-west corner of the Bay of Bengal in a north-westerly direction over Orissa and Chutia Nagpur was rather more distinctly marked than usual, and on the east of this, easterly winds usually prevailed, and a large proportion of the rain appeared to be brought up by the Bay of Bengal monsoon current, while to the west of it westerly winds generally prevailed, and the rain was partially, or perhaps to a great extent, brought by the current coming from the west coast of the peninsula. Temperature was generally rather high throughout the month, and in all the seven large meteorological districts into which the province is divided, the mean temperature was from about half to one degree above the normal.

In September the distribution of pressure was to a considerable extent similar to that which had obtained in August. The area of comparatively low pressure which usually lies over the province in September was situated more to the west than usual. Hence the west coast current flowing towards this low-pressure area did not extend over the western districts to the same extent as in former years, and the western branch of the monsoon current also appears to have withdrawn rather earlier than usual. The current from the Bay of Bengal, on the other hand, had to supply practically the whole of the rainfall in September to Bengal, and was also deflected more to the westwards. Hence in the general distribution of rainfall for this month, the rainfall of the eastern districts was rather lighter than usual. The number of barometric depressions also passing through the province was small, and with one exception they were very feeble. During the first half of the month two very slight depressions appeared, the first of which was formed over the land, and the second in the north-west corner of the Bay, but beyond giving moderate rain they were of no importance. The third was a much more influential storm, and it existed from the 16th to the 22nd of the month. This small cyclonic storm was formed in the centre of the Bay between Diamond Island and Vizagapatam. The storm then advanced in a west-north-westerly direction, and the centre crossed the Ganjam coast on the evening of the 18th, and it was on the 19th to the west of Gopalpur. The storm then took a more northerly direction, skirting the western boundary of the province and becoming more feeble, and finally it broke up and disappeared in Oudh. In its passage through the western and northern districts it gave very heavy rain, particularly in the northern districts and in North Behar. Towards the end of the month a shallow depression formed in the north-east corner of the Bay, which moved northwards into East Bengal and filled up towards the end of the month. With the appearance of this depression rainfall almost at once ceased in Behar, and from about the 24th practically no rain fell in Behar and Chutia Nagpur.

The rainfall in September was thus largely in excess of the normal in North Behar, where the falls were about half as large again as usual. Moderate excess falls amounting to about a sixth of the normal were received in South Behar and North Bengal, but in all other districts the falls were in defect, the deficiency being usually small in South-West and East Bengal, moderate in Chutia Nagpur, and large in Orissa. Chumparun again received an average fall which was about six and-a-half inches more than usual, and the actual fall was 170 per cent. of the normal. North Bhagulpur also showed an excess of about 70 per cent., having received nearly seven inches of rain more than usual. In Purneah an excess fall of 60 per cent. was received, while excess falls of about 50 per cent of the normal were recorded in Durbhunga, Mozufferpur, Monghyr, Sonthal Pergunnahs, Dinagepur, Maldah and Bogra. On the other hand, there were defects of from about one-third to one-half the normal falls in Cuttack, Balasore, Howrah, Gya and Singbhoom, and in the last district indeed there was a deficiency of more than five inches, and the actual fall was less than a third of the normal.

The variations of pressure during September were considerable and for the first-half or two-thirds of the month rather large excess pressures were recorded, but with the advance of the small cyclonic storm along the west of the province pressure became decidedly below the normal. For the whole month the mean pressure was a little in excess, the general variation, however, being not larger than one or two hundredths of an inch. The mean temperature for the whole province was only about a fifth of a degree in defect of the normal, but while the whole of Behar and North Bengal showed defects of about a degree, Orissa showed an almost similar excess, and in East and South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur temperature was almost normal.

At the commencement of October the monsoon current blowing over the province had become extremely feeble, and general rainfall had practically ceased, though there were a few isolated showers in East and North Bengal. This practical cessation of the monsoon current from flowing over the province took place in this year rather earlier than is usually the case, for in most years general rainfall is brought up quite to the beginning of October, and in some cases to the second week in October, and thus the rains ceased about a week or perhaps ten days earlier than usual in 1889. During the first eleven days of the month, however, two extremely feeble low-pressure areas were formed, one in Lower Bengal, and the second in North Bengal, which gave rise to a moderate number of showers. A low-pressure area then formed in the Bay which passed over Orissa, giving decidedly heavy rain to that district, and later on, about the 21st and 22nd, a much more influential storm began to form in the Bay off the Orissa and Ganjam coasts. At first it drifted towards the Orissa coast concentrating slowly, but on the 25th it commenced to move forward in a north-easterly direction, crossing the coast to the east of Saugor Island on the 26th. It then passed near Burrisal and into East Bengal generally until the 28th, when it quickly filled up. This storm brought very heavy rain in its progress, and parts of Orissa, South Bengal, and East Bengal received falls considerably in excess of the normal for the month. With the rapid filling up of the storm a steady northerly wind current set in, which quickly drove back the moist winds, which had again partially invaded the province in the rear of the small storm, and by the close of October a steady north-east monsoon current had set in over the whole of Bengal, pressure rose rapidly, temperature and humidity fell quickly, the skies became practically cloudless, and rainfall entirely ceased, and conditions thus became of the ordinary cold-weather type, and the monsoon season appeared to be practically at an end. The rainfall for October was thus largely in excess of the normal in Orissa, where the fall was half as large again as usual. Rather heavy falls were also received in East and South-West Bengal, where the amounts were from a third to an eighth in excess of the normal, but in all other districts the falls were in defect, the defect being moderate in Chutia Nagpur, very large in North Bengal and South Behar, while in North Behar rainfall was almost absent. The falls in October were particularly heavy in the following districts:—Khoolna, 24-Pergunnahs, Pooree, Backergunge, Jessore, Howrah, Dacca, Tipperah, Furreedpore, and Cuttack, while they were very largely defective in Mozufferpur, Chumparun, Sarun, Patna, Durbhunga, Monghyr, and Bhagulpur, where the falls scarcely equalled ten per cent. of the normal.

The variations of pressure during the month were not very large except in connection with the passage of the small storm previously described, and for the whole month the general pressure was below the normal by amounts which averaged about four or five hundredths of an inch. Temperature was generally slightly in excess of the normal in October except for about a week in the middle of the month, and again for a few days at its close, and thus the general temperature of the province for the whole month was about a degree in excess of the normal.

The above summary embraces the period during which the actual monsoon rains are received in Bengal, and usually November is a month when normal cold-weather conditions obtain and when rainfall rarely falls. It sometimes happens, however, that during November one or more cyclonic storms may form in the Bay in front of the south-west monsoon current which is gradually retreating down the Bay. In such cases the storms usually cross the Madras coast, but they sometimes even advance towards the north of the Bay and cross the Orissa or Bengal coasts. If the storm should advance northwards and should strike as far north as Orissa, that district will naturally receive very heavy rain, and also owing to the generally disturbed conditions accompanying the storm, a wave of moist winds may be forced northwards from the Bay over Bengal, and thus though the greater part of Bengal may not actually be visited by such a storm, yet it is considerably affected by it, and may receive more or less general, and sometimes heavy, rain due to the effects of the storm. This has been the case during the present year. A cyclonic storm was generated in the south of the Bay about November 13th. It first drifted westward towards the Coromandel coast, and then advanced northwards along the coast finally striking the land between Gopalpore and Pooree on the 20th, where it rapidly broke up. It was an extensive and rather severe storm, and gave excessive rainfall to Orissa, while also very heavy rain has been received in the southern districts of Bengal, and light to moderate rain even in the northern districts of the province. Thus rainfall was received from about the fourteenth of November to the twenty-second over a considerable part of Bengal, but from this date ordinary north-east monsoon conditions began again to re-establish themselves. The following are some of the more important average district falls which were received by this action. Amounts of about ten inches and above fell in Pooree and Cuttack districts; falls of from six to ten inches in Balasore, South-West Midnapore and South 24-Pergunnahs, Burdwan, Nuddea and Furreedpore districts; falls of four to six inches in Beerbhoom, West Burdwan, Jessore, Khoolna, Chittagong Hill Tracts, Dacca and Pubna districts; and falls of from two to four inches in Midnapore, 24-Pergunnahs, Howrah, Hooghly, Bancoorah, Moorshedabad, Backergunge, Noakholly, Commilla, Mymensingh, Rajshahye, Manbhoom and Singbhoom districts.

The most important features of the monsoon season in 1889 and of the months preceding it in Bengal have therefore been—

1. Pressure was almost uniformly in excess of the normal for the first six or seven months of the year.

2. Temperature was also generally in excess of the normal for the first five months, particularly in April and May, which were exceptionally hot months.

3. The land-formed storms of the cold weather which visited the province were decidedly influential and gave rather heavy rain.

4. There were remarkably few hot weather local storms or nor'-westers, and those which were formed were most of them unimportant. Only one which occurred in the Rajshahye district on April 15th was very fierce, and this was probably almost of the nature of a tornado.

5. The rainfall for January and February was largely in excess of the normal, while that for March, April and May was very defective in amount.

6. The advance of the monsoon current in the Bay took place at about the usual date in May, but it passed up the Bay rather more quickly than usual, so that it advanced, and the rains commenced over Bengal several days (from three to five) earlier than is usual.

7. The monsoon current was of considerable strength in June, and of moderate strength in July, August and September, but it retreated from the province rather earlier than usual in October.

8. The rainfall in June was therefore very considerably in excess of the normal, while it was in slight general defect in July, August, September and October.

9. There was a strongly-marked tendency to excessive rainfall in Behar, and particularly in North Behar as well as in parts of North Bengal. This was specially the case in the Chumparun district, which received about sixteen inches more rain during the monsoon season than usual. Similarly Purneah district received fifteen inches in excess, Darjeeling ten inches, Rungpore eight inches, Dacca nine inches, and Mymensing seventeen inches in excess, and were therefore areas of rather excessive precipitation.

10. The number of barometric depressions and of cyclonic storms which formed in the monsoon season was small, most of them which formed were feeble in character, and only three or four of moderate intensity.

11. Owing to the formation of a cyclonic storm in the middle of the Bay in the second week of November and its advance towards the Orissa coast which it struck on the 20th, a wave of moist winds was forced over the southern part of Bengal, and rainfall became very heavy and general for some days over Orissa, and rather heavy over South-West and East Bengal, while moderate but still general rainfall over the whole of the remainder of the province.

12. The following tables give briefly the amount and variation of the rainfall in each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province month by month for the monsoon season May to October inclusive:—

CALCUTTA the 17*th December* 1889.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 13TH DECEMBER 1889.

THE meteorological conditions during the previous week had been those of the ordinary cold-weather season. During the present week these cold-weather conditions have become more strongly pronounced than they had hitherto been, and the weather for the whole week has been typical of the winter or north-east monsoon. Temperature has fallen almost uninterruptedly during the week, and the mean temperature in the different districts of the province for the present week has been from 3° to 2° below the mean temperature for the previous week. The greatest reduction of temperature took place in the first half of the week, and from the Sunday to Monday in particular a fall in the mean temperature of from 2° to 4° took place at many stations, though towards the close of the week temperature was again rising slowly. Pressure, on the other hand, has risen on four or five days out of the seven, the rise on some days being decidedly rapid; and thus on the 7th the rise averaged almost a tenth of an inch, while from the 11th to the 12th it equalled about a twentieth of an inch On the other hand, on the two days, the 8th and 9th, a fall of almost a tenth of an inch was recorded. The wind directions have been almost steady throughout the week, and a moderately strong north-westerly wind current has been generally reported. Humidity has at most stations continued fairly low, and without much change from day to day. The sky has been practically cloudless over the whole province for the greater part of the week, and absolutely no rain has fallen at any station.

Pressure.—During the previous week the mean pressure was about six to nine hundredths of an inch below the normal, but owing to the decided increase of pressure which has taken place during the present week, this defect has been to a great extent neutralised. The mean pressure for the whole province for the past week has not been more than about one or two hundredths of an inch below the normal, while even at some stations such as Gopalpur, Cuttack, Balasore, and Saugor Island, pressure has now become slightly above the normal.

Temperature.—As previously stated, temperature has fallen steadily almost throughout the week, and the mean temperature for the whole province for the week has been about a degree below the normal, while in South-West Bengal a defect of almost three degrees is reported. Some decidedly low minimum temperatures have been reported during the week, and thus in South-West Bengal, Midnapore on the 11th registered a temperature of 49·2°, Bankoora on the 10th one of 50·0°, and Krishnaghur on the 9th one of 49·9°; while in Behar, Motihari on the 10th registered 45·9°, Arrah 46·2°, and Buxar 46·9°. The lowest minimum temperatures of all have, however, been recorded at Ranchi, where on the 10th a temperature of 43·7° was registered.

The general temperatures recorded in the various districts of the province during the week, and the range from day to night, and their variations from their normal values, are, however, best seen in the following table, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures for the week at nine typical stations are compared with their normal values for the same period. It will be seen from the table that the general night or minimum temperatures have been at most stations decidedly below the normal, the defect at Calcutta exceeding 4°. The maximum or day temperatures have, however, not been very far removed from the normal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

NOTIFICATION.

Dated the 21st December 1889.—In supersession of the notification dated the 15th November 1886, published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 17th idem, the following revised rules for the registration of documents under the Bengal Tenancy Act, VIII of 1885, framed under section 69 of the Indian Registration Act, III of 1877, which have been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, are published for general information.

JOHN EDGAR,

Chief Secretary to the Govt of Bengal.

RULES FOR THE REGISTRATION OF DOCUMENTS UNDER THE BENGAL TENANCY ACT VIII OF 1885.

Leading provisions.

1. The sections of the Tenancy Act, which refer to the registration of documents, are sections 12, 18, 85, 175, and 176.

Section 12 has been amended by Act VIII of 1886, and has reference only to the transfer of a permanent tenure by gift, voluntary sale, or usufructuary mortgage, i.e., where the mortgagor delivers possession and authorises the mortgagee to retain the rents and profits accruing from the property mortgaged [section 58(d) of the Transfer of Property Act, IV of 1882].

Section 18 enacts that a ryoti holding at a fixed rent or fixed rate of rent is subject to the same provisions with respect to its transfer by gift, sale or mortgage as a permanent tenure.

The period allowed by section 175 for the registration of a certain class of documents expired on the 31st October 1886, and after that date their registration was barred.

Section 176 relates to the notification of incumbrances to the landlord. For definition of the term "incumbrance," see section 161.

Examination of the deed.

2. A document presented for registration under sections 12, 18, and 175, shall be first examined with reference to registration rule 41, and next with reference to the particular section of the Tenancy Act under which it is presented. Care should be taken not to carry out the procedure under sections 12 and 18, unless it appears on the face of the deed itself that the tenure transferred is a permanent tenure, or that the holding transferred is a holding at a rent, or rate of rent, fixed in perpetuity.

Fractional shares of tenures and holdings.

3. Under section 88 of the Tenancy Act, a division of a tenure or holding, or distribution of the rent payable in respect thereof, shall not be binding on the landlord unless it is made with his consent in writing. When, therefore, it appears from the document that only a fractional share of a tenure or holding is being transferred, and the landlord's consent in writing is not produced, the procedure under sections 12 and 18 should not be carried out.

Refusal of registration of sub-leases executed by ryots creating a term exceeding nine years.

4. When a sub-lease executed by a ryot purporting to create a term exceeding nine years is presented for registration, it shall be returned at once with a note to the following effect recorded on its back, viz., "Not admissible under sub-section 2, section 85 of the Bengal Tenancy Act." The note shall be signed, sealed, and dated by the registering officer. The order of refusal will be entered in Book II.

Endorsement of certificate of admissibility.

5. In certifying the admissibility to registration of a document presented for registration under these rules, the registering officer shall quote registration Rule 41 as well as the particular section of the Tenancy Act under which it is admitted. Thus: Admissible under Rule 41, also under section of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Correctly stamped under the Indian Stamp Act, Schedule , No.

The fees levied shall be noted below the certificate of admissibility in the following manner, viz. :—

All documents to be entered in the ordinary Registration Fee-book.

7. The document shall be entered in the Registration Fee-book in order of presentation in the same manner as any other document presented under the Indian Registration Act. The registration fee shall be credited in column 7 with the necessary details, and included in the total of other registration fees for credit to Government. The serial number of the document in the Tenancy Act Fee-book shall be noted in the column of remarks of the Registration Fee-book with the letters T. A. for reference.

Process fees.

8. Fees for processes shall be paid in court-fee stamps, which shall be affixed to the notices, and cancelled by the registering officers in the manner prescribed in section 30 of the Court-fees' Act,—i.e., by punching out the figure-head so as to leave the amount designated on the stamps untouched. The pieces punched out shall be immediately destroyed.

Peons' charges.

9. Charges on account of peons' railway fare, boat hire or ferry charges shall be levied according to the rule quoted in paragraph 3 of Appendix A, subject to the instructions of the Collector of the District.

Tenancy Act Fee-book.

10. Landlords' fees, process fees, and charges on account of peons' railway fare, boat-hire, or ferry charges, shall not be shown in the Registration Fee-book, but shall be shown separately in a fee-book called the Tenancy Act Fee-book.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L. P.,

BOARD OF REVENUE, L. P., Fort William, the 3rd December 1889.

No. 1562B.

CUSTOMS
HON'BLE F. B PEACOCK.

THE following rules, framed by the Board of Revenue under Sections 9 and 105 of the Sea Customs Act VIII of 1878, for regulating the removal of salt warehoused at Chittagong to be re-warehoused at Naraingunge, having received the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, are published for general information.

BOARD OF REVENUE, L P, K. G GUPTA, Fort William, the 18th December 1889. Offg. Secretary.

1. When any owner of salt warehoused at Chittagong intends to remove it under section 105 for the purpose of being re-warehoused at Naraingunge, an application in writing, specifying the name, tonnage, and master's name of the vessel intended to convey the salt shall be made to the Collector of Customs, Chittagong, before 3 P.M. on the day prior to that on which it is proposed to remove the salt.

2. The salt shall be conveyed from Chittagong to Naraingunge by such vessels only as are approved by the Collector of Customs, Chittagong. Each vessel must carry a special pass in the annexed form under the signature of the Collector of Customs, Chittagong, covering the consignment of salt shipped in it.

3. The salt can only be removed from Chittagong under a bond to be executed by the bonder in conformity with the requirements of section 106 of the Sea Customs Act. The bond shall be in the form appended to these rules. Port clearance shall not be granted till after the due execution of the bond and after the quantities entered in the tally books have been found to agree with those entered in the manifest (or cargo books) of such vessel or vessels. Single bonds may be accepted for any quantity of salt not exceeding 20,000 maunds, and shall cover all the vessels being loaded with the quantity of salt for which the bond, in each case, is given, and such vessels must, in each case, be named in the bond. The number and date of the bond are to be noted in the pass which accompanies each vessel, and in the copies of the pass retained by the Collector of Customs, Chittagong, and forwarded to the Collector of Customs, Naraingunge, respectively.

4. When the discharge of salt from the warehouse at Chittagong for conveyance under bond to Naraingunge is interrupted, or not completed, such quantity as has been actually delivered at the time of interruption shall be covered by a Customs boat-note. The salt so delivered must also be completely stamped over, and the hatches and all access to the hold must be sealed by Custom seals, to be examined by the night Customs Inspector, who must record his report of each such inspection.

5. The salt when placed on board must be stamped all over and conveyed under sealed hatches. Both the seals on the hatches and the stamps on the salt as reported on clearance by the Collector of Customs at Chittagong shall be separately examined and reported on by the Salt Darogah or other officer deputed by the Collector of Customs, Naraingunge, to the Collector of Customs, Naraingunge, on receipt of whose orders on the report the seals may be broken and the salt weighed.

6. The vessel on arrival at Naraingunge shall be anchored as close as possible to the ghât leading to the warehouse in which the salt is to be stored, or at the nearest moorings to such ghât.

7. The weighment of the salt shall be made in the presence of the Salt Darogah or other officer deputed by the Collector of Customs, Naraingunge, and a Customs peon shall invariably remain with the salt until the weighment shall have been completed. Weighment of the salt shall be made, as a general rule, on board the importing vessel. It will, however, be competent to the Board, on sufficient cause being shown, to permit the salt of any bonder to be weighed after removal to the shore, under such suitable precautions, to be taken at the sole expense of the bonder, as may be prescribed by the Collector of Customs, Naraingunge, and approved by the Board.

8. The owner of the salt shall be required to pay full duty on any difference between the quantity of salt weighed out of bond at Chittagong and the quantity weighed out of the brig or steamer at Naraingunge, less an allowance of one per cent. on the quantity weighed into each vessel for wastage during the passage, if such wastage actually occurs.

9. The salt shall be stored under proper supervision in a licensed warehouse immediately the weighment shall have been made. The door of the warehouse shall have two locks; the key of one lock (which must be a Chubb's lock) shall remain with the Darogah or other officer deputed by the Collector of Customs, Naraingunge, and the key of the other with the bonder's agent.

10. The bonder will be required to defray the cost of the preventive officers, and all charges attendant on the weighing of the salt, both at Chittagong and Naraingunge, such weighments being conducted as laid down in the Board's rules for weighing salt intended for bond at Chittagong.

11. Both Customs officers and the exporter's agent will be required to certify at the end of each day's weighment the correctness of the tally books for that day's work.

12. The working hours with regard to delivery and weighment of salt shall be from 6 A.M. to 3 P.M., or such other hours as may be fixed from time to time by the Collector of Customs, with the approval of the Commissioner.

13. If from any cause the weighments cannot be completed in one day, extra peons as may be considered necessary by the Collector of Customs shall be appointed to guard the salt, the cost being borne by the bonder.

14. The duty on the warehousing bill-of-entry shall be calculated on the whole quantity delivered on weighment from the vessel or vessels covered by the bond. As salt is cleared from bond, the quantity as entered in the clearance bill-of-entry shall be noted on the warehousing bill-of-entry and duty paid accordingly. When the last quantity of salt under each bond is cleared, the bonder shall make good the deficiency, if any, between the amount of duty originally entered in the warehousing bill-of-entry and the total amounts of duty paid, less an allowance on account of wastage, if such wastage has actually occurred, which shall not exceed 2½ per cent. on the whole quantity warehoused.

15. In addition to the above rules, the rules contained in sections VII and IIX of the Salt Manual shall apply generally to all salt conveyed under bond from Chittagong and warehoused at Naraingunge.

16. Before permission can be given to transport salt warehoused at Chittagong to Naraingunge, under bond, the bonder will be required to construct a suitable warehouse at Naraingunge, to be approved by the Collector and licensed by the Chief Customs authority, together with suitable accommodation for the warehouse establishment, also to be approved by the Collector. The bonder will also be required to enter into an agreement with the Collector to defray the cost to Government of the establishment noted in the margin, which will be appointed by the Collector for the guard and supervision of the warehouse.

17. The rules contained in paragraphs 5, 11 and 13 of section II of the Salt Manual shall apply generally to the appointment and payment of this establishment, and to the construction and repair of the warehouse and establishment accommodation.

These rules shall come into force from 1st January 1890.

in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6.—The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazeepore Factory for the year 1888-89, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazeepore Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

No. L.A 560.

TO THE MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS OF CALCUTTA.

WE have the honour to report that the Cash Accounts of the Corporation of Calcutta for the year ending 31st March 1889 have been audited on our behalf and have been found correct.

We have signed the printed statement of the Annual Accounts of the Corporation for the year 1888-89, in token of our having been satisfied with the audit exercised on our behalf, and we transmit that statement with this report with a formal certificate that the accounts set forth in that statement have been correctly extracted from the books kept in the Account Branch of the Office of the Corporation.

We have also to report that, owing to the careless and slovenly manner in which the ledger and abstracts have been kept during the year under report, the numbers of errors in the postings were considerable, thus entailing a large number of journal entries and unnecessarily increasing the work of the Chief Superintendent, who conducts audit on our behalf.

We have, &c.,

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Report of the Select Committee, together with the Bill as amended by them is, by order of the President, published for general information :—

REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE.

WE, the members appointed to consider the Bill "to consolidate the Calcutta and the Suburban Police Superannuation Funds," beg to submit the following report :—

2. We have struck out so much of section 2 as made the provisions of that section applicable to the clerk appointed to manage the Superannuation Fund.

3. We prefer, as being more accurate, the expression "member" to the words "Police Officer" as used in the Bill; as "Police Officers" is used in Act II (B.C.) of 1866 in antithesis to "men," and the Superannuation Fund applies as much to the men as to the officers. We have therefore substituted the one for the other wherever the latter occurs in section 2 and the subsequent sections of the Bill.

4. We have made a slight alteration in the wording of section 5 which requires no special comment.

5. We recommend that the Bill, as amended by us, be passed.

THE following Report of the Select Committee together with the Bill as amended by them, is, by order of the President, published for general information:—

REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE.

WE, the undersigned Members of the Select Committee appointed to consider the Bill to amend and consolidate the law relating to the Port of Calcutta, and to the appointment of Commissioners for the said Port, beg to submit the following report:—

2. We have held in all 8 meetings, and have considered the sections of the Bill in detail. The first section in which we have made important alterations is section 5. We have increased the number of elected Commissioners to eight, so as to enable five to be elected by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. Five Commissioners are needed to represent the five branches of the trade of Calcutta; at Bombay, five out of the thirteen Commissioners are elected by the Chamber of Commerce. We have omitted the provisions that not less than two of the Commissioners shall be natives of India, and that the Commissioner nominated by the body which best represents the interests of the Native mercantile community shall be a native of India, resident in Calcutta or Howrah. The Bill provides for two constituencies which may ordinarily be expected to elect Native gentlemen, viz., the one last referred to, and the Commissioners of the town of Calcutta, and should either of these bodies prefer to elect a European, we see no reason why the law need offer any objection to their doing so. In order not to increase the number of Commissioners beyond fifteen, we have reduced the Government nominees to five; it is understood that this number will suffice to enable the Local Government to nominate the Chairman of the Municipality, should it be thought desirable to appoint him, leaving the Municipal Commissioners free to elect one of their own number other than the Chairman.

3. We have omitted altogether section 18 of the Bill, which recites the loans due to the Secretary of State for India in Council, and also the Fourth Schedule referred to in that section. As indicated in the letter of the Government of India, No. 731 of the 28th March last, there seems to be no necessity for enumerating these loans in an Act of the Legislature.

4. In section 36 we have omitted the words which include in the works to be constructed and carried out by the Commissioners, "the building of steam-vessels "for the purpose of towing vessels into, out of, in or upon the river Hughli." It was not intended that the Commissioners should be authorised to enter into competition with the tug service of the Hughli.

5. At the end of Part III we have introduced new sections regulating the valuation of Port Trust property for the purposes of municipal rating. On a recent reference made to the Advocate-General, on the subject of a municipal valuation of Dock property, he advised that, "having regard to the peculiar nature of the holding, I am of opinion that the mode of assessment provided by Act II, 1888, seems scarcely applicable to the present case, and I think it would be expedient to obtain a short Act for the assessment of the Docks." We are of opinion that the consolidation of the Port Trust Law offers a suitable opportunity for the legislation recommended by the Hon'ble the Advocate-General, and that it might be advantageously extended to the whole of the Port Trust property; and for this we have a precedent in the case of Bombay. The first principle accepted at Bombay is to leave the decision of the amount payable to the Governor in Council. This we think it advisable to adopt in Calcutta, so as to save both parties from the expenses and delays of litigation. Following, therefore, in other respects the general procedure of the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1888, we propose to allow in section 63 a reference to the Local Government, in lieu of an appeal to the Small Cause Court.

6. We have also as at Bombay allowed a reduction of ten per cent. on the amount payable by an ordinary owner in consideration of the special circumstances of Port Trust property. As regards the principle of valuation, we have adhered to that laid down in the Calcutta

Municipal Consolidation Act, 1888, which we consider specially applicable to the case of property held by a public body, not for the purpose of earning the maximum profits, but bound so to adjust its charges as to merely provide interest on the original outlay

7. We have also added two sections regarding the roads belonging to the Port Trust. Section 67 provides that the Commissioners may require the Corporation of Calcutta to take over any of their roads and convert them into public streets; in that event they will be for all practical purposes public streets of the town, maintained and lighted from Municipal Funds, subject only to the proviso that should the Corporation at any time stop or discontinue them, which will require the assent of the Port Commissioners, the proprietary right shall revert to the Trust. Section 68 provides for the case in which the Port Trust are unwilling to part with the control of roads within their property, though practically public roads. In this case, we provide that they may require the Corporation to light, cleanse and water these roads. As the Commissioners pay water, sewage and lighting rates, this seems a perfectly fair provision. We have not added the obligation of maintenance, partly because the bulk of the wear and tear of such roads must be due to the work of the the port, and therefore legitimately falls on trade rather than on the general tax-payer; and partly because to require one body to repair and keep in order roads for the use of another body, must almost inevitably result in friction and misunderstandings.

8. We have altered sections 60 to 62 regulating the submission of an annual budget estimate to Government, so as to make it obligatory on the Commissioners to submit such estimate before the close of the preceding year. On the other hand, we have extended the period within which the Local Government may disallow such estimate or any portion thereof from two months to three; we understand that three months will be sufficient to enable the Local Government to deal with the estimate.

9. We have omitted the second clause of section 70 requiring the Vice-Chairman to advertise for ten days beforehand the audit and examination of accounts under the Act. The accounts are practically being audited and examined throughout the year, and the clause can serve no useful purpose.

10. We have modified section 73 by omitting the provision that the number of bathing ghâts which the Government might call on the Commissioners to reserve in lieu of ghâts closed by them should "not exceed in number those that may be removed;" in some cases it might be right to reserve a large number of small ghâts in place of a smaller number of large ones.

11. Section 76 has received special attention. By this section the Commissioners may, if the limits of the port are extended, remove any private wharf, jetty, or other work constructed without the assent of the Local Government without making any compensation therefor to the owner. It was pressed upon our consideration that this was altogether unjust, and that the payment of compensation ought to be made legally obligatory on the Commissioners. Cases were referred to in which this section was alleged to have caused injustice in the past, and to be likely to cause it in the future. On the other hand, it was urged that land below high-water-mark undoubtedly belongs to the Government; that any person who puts up any work within such limits is in law a trespasser, and might be called upon summarily to remove it. If therefore any such work is found to be in existence when the land is included in the port, no legal claim for compensation can arise.

The majority of us are of opinion that this correctly describes the legal situation, and we find that the section has been in existence since 1870, and was then justified on the same grounds as above stated. At the same time cases may often arise in which compensation ought under all the circumstances to be allowed. We have therefore given the Local Government power to direct the payment of such sum by way of compensation as under the circumstances may seem to it fair and equitable.

12. Sections 92 to 96 refer to the scales of tolls, rates and charges. We have added to these sections words expressly authorizing the Commissioners to frame a scale of charges for the conveyance of goods by their tramway.

We have also deemed it necessary to increase the powers of the Local Government, so as to empower it not only, as at present, to sanction each scale at the time when it is framed, but also from time to time to require the Commissioners to cancel or modify any sanctioned scale should circumstances render this desirable.

13. In section 102 we have substituted the words "two clear working days" for "forty-eight hours" as the period within which goods must be removed from the premises of the Commissioners.

14. We have in many cases substituted the words "Commissioners in meeting" for "Commissioners," as otherwise the powers conveyed by those sections could, under section 48, be exercised by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman independently.

15. We recommend that the Bill, as now amended, be passed.

Subject to dissent to section 85.

CALCUTTA;
The 18th December, 1889.

HENRY PRATT.

MINUTE OF DISSENT BY THE HON'BLE C. H. MOORE.

I HAVE to record my objection to section 76 (section 85 in revised Bill) and my opinion that it should be removed, or altered, to reverse its present tenor. I quote the section in extenso, and then state my various objections to it—

"85. In case any wharf, quay, stage, jetty, pier, erection, or mooring may have been, without the assent of the Local Government, made, erected, or fixed below high-water—mark without the limits for the time being of the port, and thereafter the limits of the port shall be extended so as to include the place in which such wharf, quay, stage, jetty, pier, erection, or mooring shall have been made, erected, or fixed, it shall be lawful for the Commissioners to remove, fill up, or destroy such wharf, quay, stage, jetty, pier, erection, or mooring, without making any compensation therefor;

Power to remove wharf, quay, stage, jetty, pier, erection, or mooring, if erected without assent of Local Government.

Provided that it shall be lawful for the Local Government to direct the payment of such sum (if any) as under the circumstances may seem to it fair and equitable."

2. In 1886, by a stroke of the pen the port was extended to Budge-Budge, a distance of fifteen miles from its previous limits, which immediately brought under the powers of this section four factories. It is not at all impossible that some day it may be extended similarly in an opposite direction which would include within its limits Barrackpore and Serampore, and bring under this section ten further factories and presses. I believe that, almost without exception, not one of these factories obtained the sanction of the Local Government to erect the jetties they possess over which the whole of their trade is conducted; and therefore nearly all of them would be liable were the port extended to include them in its limits to the summary confiscation of such jetties by the Port Commissioners without any payment for the loss it would involve. I desire to protect them from this possibility which I should regard as rank injustice, and to stay the law from continuing to the Port Commissioners the power to inflict such an injury on trade.

3. None of the persons who have so erected jetties seem to have been aware of any necessity to obtain Government sanction, in stating which in Select Committee I was met with the retort that every individual is supposed to know the law. Of this I am aware, but I am not alive to the knowledge that even those unfortunate gentlemen, John Doe and Richard Roe who were never free from it, were supposed to keep their eyes open and their senses on the alert for pitfalls prepared for them by the law. This section, as and where it stands, seems to me a distinct pitfall, because no private individual would dream of searching an Act to appoint Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta which is the title of Act V of 1870, to ascertain his legal obligations in connection with land far removed from the port, and that has less to do with it than the Ochterlony monument. The statistics given above shew a number of individuals who fell into the pitfall.

4. In putting this point I was met with the reply that, under the common law of the land, jetties so erected were acts of trespass, as the foreshore is Crown property; and that they could be summarily confiscated under the Common Law. Having no desire to question the Common Law in consideration of a Port Bill, I was satisfied with the equity of the suggestion herein made that in case of the Port Commissioners desiring to confiscate what they might deem a trespassing jetty, the matter could be fought out in the High Court, which administers the law; and I pointed out that as Government was thus amply protected, the section could be removed from this Bill where it was simply an excrescence. This was merely met by insistence on the necessity of including the section, which engenders suspicion that the Common Law may not have so certain a ring on the foreshore question as stated, or that its possible protection of individuals was feared; and a close examination from this point of view of the possible ramifications of the section seems to me to reveal that it confers power to forestall a decision from the civil courts and to ride rough-shod, if the Local Government and Port Commissioners are so disposed, over the rights of individuals as I will now try to shew.

5. In the paragraph regarding this section in the Report of the Select Committee it is laid down that, land below high-water—mark undoubtedly belongs to Government; but even if this is accurate so far as it goes, it does not, I think, state the whole case, because it omits allusion to instances where Government may have parted with its foreshore rights to individuals, which I understand there is nothing in the Indian Law to prevent its doing.

6. There seems to be evidence to shew that it has done so in instances of land upon the banks of the Hooghly where factories are built; for in one instance (if not more) it can, I believe, be shewn that under a duly authorised revenue settlement, land rent was paid to Government down to lowest low-water—mark; which is a distinct resignation by Government of its rights in that foreshore for value received. In another instance the title deeds of a factory include a special clause by which the zemindar grants to it the full use of the foreshore of the land leased from him, and as these title deeds were declared to be in order by first class Solicitors, it is at least primâ facie evidence that the power of the zemindar to grant such rights had been examined and found to exist; which here again would imply that Crown rights (if existent) had been at some time voluntarily resigned. Where, therefore, holders of land can prove such titles as these to the foreshore, I presume nobody can prohibit their using it for erection of jetties, removable only under the Land Acquisition Act, which clearly admits the principle ignored in this section that, invasion of private property for public purposes is only permissible on payment of adequate compensation. This postulate, however, is subjected to the rudest treatment in the section complained of; for, as I understand it, it enables the Port Commissioners (if backed by Government) to ignore foreshore or other rights, even if proved to exist, to be deaf to any argument on the subject, to possibly avoid a decision from the Courts, and in connection with this particular Bill, to arbitrarily institute a Cæsarian edict that the question shall be decided by the fact of Government consent, which is sufficiently comprehensive to include jetties at factories in existence years before Act V of 1870 was passed; regardless of prescriptive rights acquired by long usage. In connection with this last point, I may fitly comment here on a change in the wording of the present section from the corresponding section in Act V. In the old section, the wording was as follows:—

"In case any wharf, dock, quay, jetty, pier, erection, or mooring shall, without the consent in writing of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, be fixed, excavated, erected, or built below high-water-mark without the limits for the time being of the port, &c., &c., &c."

7. In the present section the sense is changed by conversion of the words "shall be" into "may have been." It is clear to me that in the original section the words "shall be" were designedly used to refer to the future only, and so by inference to exclude the past; and this view is strengthened by knowledge of the fact that Mr. Ashley Eden, the Member in charge of the Bill, originally drafted the section to refer to any work erected within one mile of the then limits of the port, demonstrating the intention of a departure from the date of the new Act then being passed, i.e., that the limits of the port being demarcated, and new legislation regarding it effected, thereafter these erections must not be made near those limits without Government consent. (The words "within one mile of the port" subsequently dropped out on a motion made in Council with extraordinary fatuity by an unofficial member, blind to what it might involve; and Government cannot be blamed for accepting so great an enhancement to their powers suggested from such a source.)

8. The section now substituted not only repeals the old section, but the words "may have been" give its substance retrospective effect to all time as opposed to the limitation which was, I maintain, before confined to events occurring after the passing of the Act, i.e., it extends the powers of the section to jetties built prior to 1870, which in my opinion the old Act specially protected.

9. In regard to jetties built subsequent to 1870 without Government sanction by persons who can claim no foreshore or other rights, I urge that they fell into the pitfall; but as they are pursuing useful trade, and have caused no obstruction to the navigation of the river, and Government having never raised objection to has practically condoned their trespass (if so it be), the law I consider should make compensation obligatory, and not optional, should these jetties ever be taken up under this Act.

10. To effect this, it is only necessary to alter the wording of the section in some such way as this, viz., that compensation based on the principles of the Land Acquisition Act shall in all cases be given except where it can be shewn that the work erected has been objected to as a wilful trespass, or is an obstruction to navigation, in which last cases compensation would be made optional.

11. I am told that where compensation is manifestly equitable it is certain to be given under the proviso now added to the section, by which power is given to the Local Government to give such sum as it may think fit; but in this I can find no such positive security for the due protection of the individual when in conflict with a Corporation as I consider is essential in a section which deliberately delegates Crown powers to the Corporation, thereby suggesting an intention to give it a free hand to the possible peril of the individual.

12. Corporations are proverbially high-handed and callous; and though I may have the fullest belief that the present Government might safely be trusted to see that justice was done, it is not given us to peep into futurity to criticise the chances of like treatment under some different regime, and it might occur in the future (for which there is a precedent in the past) that compensation under any such circumstances as above set forth was regarded as totally unmerited; or, that the provincial money bags were so depleted, that payment might be withheld on the ground of inability to afford it, however complete the recognition that it ought to be made.

13. I feel very keenly my disadvantage in discussing this question in the interests of those concerned from being unversed in the law, and the risk I run in speaking my mind freely concerning points surrounded by legal technicalities of a crushing rejoinder from some one of the high legal authorities in the Council, by the possible exhibition on my part of ignorance of some purely elementary legal principle: also, that I may be charged with making too much of the matter by writing at such length, as the chances of confiscation of valuable jetties under an extension of the port are remote; but I feel I must not fear but face the consequences of the risk, trusting to be treated tenderly, and that I cannot curtail my remarks without omitting a portion of the story.

14. Though the section is small the principle involved is large, and affecting, as it some day may do, the trade-interests of industries representing a capital value of over one hundred lacs of rupees, it seems to me essential that those industries should, before the Bill is passed, be made fully aware of their danger, which whether near or remote exists; as it is evident they are ignorant of it now, and always have been, although the section first appeared on the Statute Book in the year 1870.

CHARLES H. MOORE.

I desire to express general concurrence in the dissent of Mr. Moore.

PART IX.—Of Levying Tolls and Rates.

Tolls to be levied for the landing and shipment of goods from and into sea-going vessels.

101. The Commissioners shall frame a scale of tolls, dues, rates and charges for the landing and shipment of goods from and into sea-going vessels at the docks, wharves, quays, stages, jetties and piers, belonging to the Commissioners, and for the use thereof by such vessels, and for the storing and keeping of any goods stored in any premises belonging to them, and for the removal of goods, and for the use of any moorings laid down or acquired by the Commissioners, and for the towage of vessels by the steam-vessels of the Commissioners in the port.

Tolls to be levied for landing and shipment of goods into and out of inland vessels.

102. The Commissioners shall also frame a scale of tolls, dues, rates and charges for the landing and shipment of goods into and out of any vessel (not being a sea-going vessel); and also a scale of tolls for the use of the said docks, wharves, quays, moorings, stages, jetties, and piers by any such vessel, in case the Commissioners shall permit the goods to be landed or shipped by other than their own officers and servants.

Power to frame scale of charges for services performed by Commissioners.

103. The Commissioners shall also frame a scale of charges for any services to be performed by the Commissioners or their servants in respect of any vessel or goods, or for the conveyance of goods by their tramways, or for the use of any works or appliances to be provided by the Commissioners.

Power to frame scale of tolls in respect of vessels plying for hire regularly or occasionally within, or partly within and partly without, the Port.

104. The Commissioners shall also frame a scale of tolls, annual or other, to be paid by the owners of any vessels plying for hire, whether regularly or occasionally within, or partly within and partly without, the limits of the port:

Provided that no such tolls shall be chargeable in respect of vessels which are liable to pay port dues under the provisions of Schedule I of the Indian Ports Act, 1889.

Scales of tolls, dues, rates and charges subject to approval of Local Government.

105. (1) Such scales of tolls, dues, rates and charges shall be adopted by the Commissioners in meeting, and shall be submitted to the Local Government: and after receiving its approval, shall be published by the Commissioners in the Calcutta Gazette: and may from time to time, subject to the like approval and publication, be in like manner altered.

(2) It shall also be competent to the Local Government at any time to cancel any of the scales framed under sections one hundred and one to one hundred and four (both inclusive), or to call upon the Commissioners to modify any portion of such scales; and thereupon the Commissioners in meeting shall modify such scales accordingly.

Power to impose rates on all goods to provide for payment of debt.

106. If, on the preparation of the estimate of any year, it shall appear that the estimated income of the Commissioners for such year, after deducting therefrom the estimated expenditure of such year to be incurred under this Act, will be insufficient for the payment of the sums which, under the provisions of this Act, will be payable during such year to the Secretary of State for India in Council, and to the holders of debentures under this Act or any enactment hereby repealed; or if at any time in the course of a year it may appear that the actual income of such portion of the year as may have then elapsed and the estimated income of the residue of such year, after deducting therefrom the actual expenditure of such past portion and the estimated expenditure of such residue, will be so insufficient, then and in every such case the Commissioners shall, upon the requisition of the Local Government, from time to time, and to the extent requisite in every case, charge upon all goods landed from or shipped into any vessel lying or being within the limits of the port, whether such goods shall or shall not be so landed or shipped at any dock, wharf, quay, stage, jetty, or pier belonging to the Commissioners, such tolls, dues, rates, and charges, in addition to or other than those prescribed by any scale of tolls, dues, rates, and charges for the time being in force under the provisions of sections one hundred and one to one hundred and five (both inclusive) as will, when added to the said income of the year, suffice as nearly as may be for the payment of the said sums in full.

Levy and recovery of tolls, dues, rates and charges.

107. Such tolls, dues, rates and charges shall be fixed and adopted in accordance with a resolution passed by the Commissioners at a meeting, and shall be submitted to the Local Government; and if the same shall be approved by it, shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and shall forthwith come into operation and remain in operation until altered or revoked by the Commissioners in meeting with the sanction of the Local Government, and shall be leviable and recoverable in like manner as any other tolls, dues, rates and charges payable under this Act.

109. (1) For the amount of all tolls, dues, rates and charges, duly leviable under this Act in respect of any goods, the Commissioners shall have a lien on such goods, and shall be entitled to seize and detain the same until such tolls, dues, rates and charges are fully paid.

(2) Tolls, dues, rates and charges in respect of goods to be landed shall become payable immediately on the landing of the goods.

(3) Tolls, dues, rates and charges in respect of goods to be removed from the premises of the Commissioners, or to be shipped for export, shall be payable before the goods are removed or shipped.

(4) The lien for such tolls, dues, rates and charges shall have priority over all other liens and claims, except for general average, for the ship-owner's lien for freight upon the said goods where such lien exists and has been preserved in the manner hereinafter provided, for primage, and for money payable to Her Majesty or the Secretary of State for India in Council under any law for the time being in force:

Provided that nothing in this Act shall affect any power or authority vested in the Chief Officer of Customs under any law for the time being in force.

Commissioners not liable for damages sustained through cause not arising from negligence.

110. The Commissioners shall not be liable for any damage which may be sustained through any cause not arising from negligence on the part of the Commissioners, to any goods whether landed for import or received for export during such time as the said goods remain in the possession or under the control of the Commissioners.

Commissioners to take charge of goods.

111. (1) The Commissioners shall immediately upon the landing of any goods take charge thereof, and store such as are liable to suffer from exposure, in any shed or warehouse belonging to the Commissioners.

(2) If any owner, without any default on the part of the Commissioners, fail to remove any goods from the premises of the Commissioners within two clear working days from the time of landing, such goods shall remain on the premises at the sole risk and expense of the owner.

Notice to be given if goods not removed from shed or warehouse within specified time.

112. (1) Whenever the owner of any goods fails to remove the same within the time specified in the last preceding section, the Commissioners shall give notice to the consignee or owner of such goods, if his address be known by letter sent by post to such address or left thereat, that all liability which the Commissioners may have hitherto incurred in respect of such goods has ceased.

(2) And shall also publish in one or more daily newspapers notice of the expiry of such liability, and shall specify therein the numbers, marks and descriptions of such goods, so far as the same may appear.

Liability of consignee or owner of charges for warehousing goods in public warehouses.

113. In case the said goods shall be removed to the public warehouses, then the consignee or owner shall be liable to the charges for warehousing goods in such public warehouses; and the goods shall remain subject to all liens to which they would have been liable if they had remained in the possession of the Commissioners, and to the power of sale hereinafter given.

Lien for freight preserved after landing of goods if notice of lien be given.

114. (1) If the master or owner of any vessel, or his agent, at or before the time of landing from such vessel any goods at any dock, wharf, quay, stage, jetty, or pier belonging to the Commissioners, shall give to the Commissioners notice in writing that such goods are to remain subject to a lien for freight or other charges payable to the ship-owner to an amount to be mentioned in such notice, such goods shall continue liable to the same lien (if any) for such charges as they were subject to before the landing thereof.

(2) Such goods shall be retained either in the warehouses and sheds of the Commissioners, or, with the consent of the Chief Officer of Customs, in the public warehouses, at the risk and expense of the owners of the goods, until the lien is discharged as hereinafter mentioned.

Discharge of lien by payment or release.

115. Upon the production to the officer of the Commissioners in that behalf of a document purporting to be a receipt for the amount claimed as due, or a release of freight from the person by or on whose behalf such notice shall have been given, it shall be lawful for the Commissioners to permit such goods to be removed without regard to such lien:

Provided they shall have used reasonable care in respect to the authenticity of such document.

If tolls not paid or the lien for freight not discharged, goods may be sold after the expiration of two months.

116. If the tolls, dues, rates and charges payable to the Commissioners in respect of any goods under this Act are not paid, or if the lien of the ship-owner for freight where such notice as aforesaid has been given is not discharged, the Commissioners may, and in the latter event if required by or on behalf of the person claiming such lien for freight, shall, at the expiration of two months from the time when the goods were placed in their custody, or if the goods are of a perishable nature at such earlier period, being not less than twenty-four hours after the landing of the goods as they shall think fit, sell by public auction the said goods, or so much as may be necessary to satisfy the amounts hereinafter directed to be paid out of the produce of such sale.

Notice to be given before sale of goods.

117. (1) Before making such sale, ten days' notice of the same shall be given by publication thereof in the Calcutta Gazette, unless the goods are of so perishable a nature as in the opinion of the officer of the Commissioners in that behalf to render immediate sale necessary or advisable; in which event such notice shall be given as the urgency of the case admits of.

(2) If the address of the owner of the goods has been stated on the manifest of the goods, or in any of the documents which have come into the hands of the Commissioners, or is otherwise known, notice shall also be given to the owner of the goods by letter delivered at such address or sent by the post; but the title of a bonâ fide purchaser of such goods shall not be invalidated by reason of the omission to send the notice hereinbefore mentioned, nor shall any such purchaser be bound to inquire whether such notice has been sent.

Application of proceeds of sale.

118. (1) In every case of any such sale as aforesaid, the moneys received from the sale shall be applied as follows:—

(a) in payment of the expenses of the sale;

(b) in payment according to their respective priorities of the liens and claims excepted in section one hundred and nine from the priority of the liens of the Commissioners for tolls, rates, and dues; and

(c) in payment of the tolls, charges, and expenses of landing, removing, storing or warehousing the same; and of all other charges due to the Commissioners under this Act in respect thereof.

(2) The surplus, if any, shall be paid to the importer, owner, or consignee of the goods, or to his agent, on his applying for the same:

Provided that such application be made within one year from the sale of the goods, or good reason be shown why such application was not so made to the satisfaction of the Commissioners; and in case such application shall not be so made, nor reason shown, such surplus shall be held by the Commissioners upon trust for the purposes of this Act.

Power to distrain vessels for non-payment of tolls.

119. If the master of any vessel in respect of which any tolls, dues, rates, penalties, or charges shall be payable under this Act, or any rules or orders made in pursuance thereof, shall refuse or neglect to pay the same or any part thereof on demand, it shall be lawful for the Commissioners to apply to the Collector of Customs of the Port of Calcutta, and such Collector shall distrain or arrest of his own authority such vessel, and the tackle, apparel, and furniture belonging thereto, or any part thereof, and detain the same until the amount so due to the Commissioners shall be paid; and in case any part of the said tolls, dues, rates, penalties or charges, or of the costs of the distress or arrestment, or of the keeping of the same, shall remain unpaid for the space of five days next after any such distress or arrestment shall have been so made, the Collector of Customs may cause the vessel or other thing so distrained or arrested to be sold, and with the proceeds of such sale may satisfy such tolls, dues, rates, penalties or charges and costs, including the costs of sale remaining unpaid; rendering the surplus (if any) to the master of such vessel on demand.

Port clearance not to be granted till tolls paid.

120. If the Commissioners shall give to the officer of Government, whose duty it shall be to grant the port clearance of any vessel, a notice stating that an amount therein specified is due in respect of tolls, dues, rates, or charges, or penalties chargeable under this Act, or any bye-laws, rules, or orders made in pursuance thereof against such vessel, or the owner or master of such vessel in respect thereof, or against or in respect of any goods on board such vessel, such officer shall not grant such port clearance until the amount so chargeable shall have been paid.

Whenever the Local Government shall, under the provisions of the Indian Ports Act, 1889, issue an order which shall specify the amount of charge to which the Commissioners shall be liable in respect of the port dues and fees to be received by them as Conservators of the Port, the same shall be deemed to be a sum of money advanced by the Secretary of State for India in Council, and to be due on the day on which such order shall take effect.

8. Section 22 of the said Act is hereby repealed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE principal objects of this Bill are—

(a) to reduce, from three to two, the number of the copies of every book which are to be delivered by the printer to the Government;

(b) to authorize the Local Government to require the delivery of additional copies for transmission to the British Museum and the Secretary of State; and

(d) to abrogate the rule that copies delivered under the Act shall be paid for by the Government.

Two copies of every book are required for preservation in India, and, if the book is deemed by the trustees of the British Museum and the Secretary of State to be a work which ought to be preserved in England also, additional copies are required for transmission to the Museum and the India Office.

In England the copies which are required by the Statute 5 & 6 Vict., cap. 45, to be presented to the British Museum without demand, and to the Bodleian Library at Oxford, the Public Library at Cambridge, the Faculty of Advocates at Edinburgh and Trinity College, Dublin, on demand, have to be delivered to those institutions without payment; and it appears to the Government that the time has come for requiring the presentation, without payment, of such copies as may be required by Indian law to be delivered to the order of the Local Government. When the Bill which became Act XXV of 1867 was introduced, it was feared that the obligation to pay for copies delivered might lead to extravagant demands being made on the Government, and this apprehension has been realized.

The other objects of the Bill are to repeal certain portions of the Act of 1867 which have become obsolete (sections 2, 5 and 8), to indicate the District Court as the Court in which, beyond the limits of the presidency-towns, one of the originals of the declaration made under section 5 of the Act is to be deposited (section 3) and to amend the expression of sections 16 and 17 of the Act (section 6).

* Means of six days. | † Means of five days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last 24 years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number of the atmospheric means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional station for the period in question during the past 24 years in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

the week ending Friday, the 20th of December 1889.

CALCUTTA, the 24th December 1889.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 20TH DECEMBER 1889.

THE week under review has again been a period during which cold weather conditions have been present in a decidedly pronounced form. There have, as usual, been slight changes in the meteorological elements from day to day, but in many cases the variations in different parts of the week have compensated each other, and there has, therefore, been no practical change of any importance during the week. A steady northerly wind current has been reported at all stations, temperature and humidity have continued fairly low, though in the case of minimum temperature there has been generally a slight rise. Pressure rose steadily for the first four or five days of the week, but on the last two days it generally fell. The sky has been almost absolutely cloudless throughout the greater part of the province for the whole week, while no station has reported any rain whatever.

Pressure.—As stated previously, rose considerably for the first four or five days of the week, but on the last day or two there was a very decided fall. The mean pressure for the whole week has not been very far removed from the normal, and at about half the number of stations slight defects have been reported, while at the remainder pressure has been slightly in excess of the normal.

Temperature.—The maximum or day temperatures have not shown very great variations during the week, but the night or minimum temperatures have generally shown a distinct increase from the commencement of the week. The mean temperature for the whole week for the whole province has been almost normal, but though this is the case, slight excess temperatures have been recorded in East and North Bengal and North Behar, while, on the other hand, considerable defects have been registered in Orissa and South-West Bengal.

The general average distribution of temperature over the province, its range from day to night, and the variation of both day and night temperatures from the normal are, however, best shown in the following table, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures at nine typical stations in different districts of the province are compared with the normal values for the same periods. It will here be seen that while the maximum or day temperatures have only varied slightly from the normal, the night or minimum temperatures have generally been in distinct defect, the defects at such stations as Cuttack and Calcutta equalling about two degrees.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

MEMORANDUM

THE mortuary returns of the districts in Bengal for the month of October 1889 present the following results:—

1. That 148,610 deaths occurred among a population of 65,859,534, representing an annual death-rate of 27·00 per 1,000 against 24·60 per 1,000 in the preceding month, and 27·12 per 1,000 in the corresponding month of the preceding year, indicating, as compared with the former period, an improvement in the number of deaths recorded.

2. That the highest casualty-rates were returned from the following districts:—
